Visitor access and facilities Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Administration Committee,2012-05-23 Approximately 1 million people enter the parliamentary estate every year as visitors rather than as Members or staff of the two Houses of Parliament The two Houses must balance the business needs of a fully working legislature and those of a visitor attraction Parliament is first and foremost a working institution and that implies clear principles for how access is organised Democratic access to the work of Parliament must remain free and open enabling any citizen at least so far as physical space allows open access to sittings in the two Chambers in the Committee Rooms and in Westminster Hall or to meet their Member of Parliament Considerable work needs to be done on how the visitor attraction part of Parliament is best operated not least in persuading some reluctant Members and staff of both Houses and an often instinctively negative media to recognise the difference between democratic access to the work of the place and interest in its heritage and tourism aspects The central idea that has emerged in this inquiry is that two conceptions of Parliament are required the working institution and the visitor attraction The two should be complementary not in conflict and some of the tensions that presently arise from for example queues outside the building and the consequent delay of business meetings for Members and others would be resolved if the two concepts were more rigorously held apart Libraries & Culture ,1998 Subject Directory of Special Libraries and Information Centers ,1981 Fracture Mechanics Satya N. Fourth Summer School in Analysis and Mathematical Physics Carlos Villegas-Blas, 2008-12-02 This book consists of three expository articles written by outstanding researchers in Mathematical Physics Rafael Benguria Peter Hislop and Elliott Lieb The articles are based on their lectures at the Fourth Summer School in Analysis and Mathematical Physics held at the Institute of Mathematics Universidad Nacional Autonoma de Mexico Cuernavaca in May 2005 The main goal of the articles is to link the basic knowledge of a graduate student in Mathematics with three current research topics in Mathematical Physics Isoperimetric inequalities for eigenvalues of the Laplace Operator Random Schrodinger Operators and Stability of Matter respectively These well written articles will guide and introduce the reader to current research topics and will also provide information on recent progress in some areas of Mathematical Physics Fictions of Consent Urvashi Chakravarty, 2022-03-22 In Fictions of Consent Urvashi Chakravarty excavates the ideologies of slavery that took root in early modern England in the period that preceded the development of an organized trade in enslaved persons Despite the persistent fiction that England was innocent of racialized slavery Chakravarty argues that we must hold early modern England and its narratives of exceptional and essential freedom to account for the frameworks of slavery that it paradoxically but strategically engendered Slavery was not a foreign or faraway phenomenon she demonstrates rather the ideologies of slavery were seeded in the quotidian spaces of English life and in the everyday contexts of England's service society from the family to the household in the theater and especially the grammar school classroom where the legacies of classical slavery and race were inherited and negotiated The English conscripted the Roman freedman's figurative stain of slavery to register an immutable sign of bondage and to secure slavery to epidermal difference even as early modern frameworks of volitional service provided the strategies for later fictions of happy slavery in the Atlantic world Early modern texts presage the heritability of slavery in early America reveal the embeddedness of slavery within the family and illuminate the ways in which bloodlines of descent underwrite the racialized futures of enslavement Fictions of Consent intervenes in a number of areas including early modern literary and cultural studies premodern critical race studies the reception of classical antiquity and
