English Texts Mohsen Ghadessy, 1995-01-01 This text discusses the concept of theme and its application as an analytical tool to a number of spoken and written registers of English To date studies of text organization have paid less attention to what is called the method of development of a text that is thematic organization The book shows that the study of this organization can reveal many different strategies employed by speakers and writers when texts are created Generic Integrity and Innovation in Tourism Texts in English Sabrina Francesconi, 2012 Discourse and Community Eija Ventola, 2000 Literacy and Globalization Uta Papen, 2006-09-27 Using literacy practices in the newly independent post apartheid Namibia as a lens through which to examine the effects of globalisation this broad case study looks at issues surrounding tourism state control and the new forces of consumerism By placing literacy at the centre of an investigation into social and cultural change as experienced by individuals Papen shows that in times of change reading and writing are always implicated in structures of power and inequality The book considers language practices that can exclude some members of Namibian society and also looks at the strategies used by local people to accommodate and even embrace the onward march of global English and the influx of foreign visitors practices and modes of commerce and interaction

Women Writing the Home Tour, 1682-1812 Zoë Kinsley, 2016-12-05 Between the late seventeenth and the early nineteenth century the possibilities for travelling within Britain became increasingly various owing to improved transport systems and the popularization of numerous tourist spots Women Writing the Home Tour 1682-1812 examines women's participation in that burgeoning touristic tradition considering the ways in which the changing face of British travel and its writing can be traced through the accounts produced by the women who journeyed England, Scotland and Wales during this important period. This book explores female authored home tour travel narratives in print as well as manuscript works that have hitherto been neglected in criticism. Discussing texts produced by authors including Celia Fiennes, Ann Radcliffe and Dorothy Wordsworth alongside the works of lesser known travellers such as Mary Morgan and Dorothy Richardson, Kinsley considers the construction and also the destabilization of gender, class and national identity through chapters that emphasize the diversity and complexity of this rich body of writings.

Pragmatics of Space Andreas H. Jucker, Heiko Hausendorf, 2022-09-20 This handbook provides a comprehensive overview of spatial configurations of language use and of language use in space. It consists of four parts. The first part covers the various practices of describing space through language including spatial references in spoken interaction or in written texts, the description of motion events as well as the creation of imaginative spaces in storytelling. The second part surveys aspects of the spatial organization of face-to-face communication including not only spatial arrangements of small groups in interaction but also the spatial dimension of sign language and gestures. The third part is devoted to the communicative resources of constructed spaces and the ways in which these facilitate and shape communication. Part four finally is devoted to pragmatics across space and cultures, i.e. the ways in which language use differs across language varieties, languages and cultures.

Robert Louis Stevenson and the Pictorial Text Richard J. Hill, 2016-11-03 Robert Louis Stevenson and the Pictorial Text explores the genesis, production and the critical appreciation of the illustrations to the fiction of Robert Louis Stevenson. Stevenson is one of the most copied and interpreted authors of the late nineteenth century, especially his novels Treasure Island and Strange Case of Dr Jekyll and Mr

Hyde These interpretations began with the illustration of his texts in their early editions often with Stevenson's express consent and this book traces Stevenson's understanding and critical responses to the artists employed to illustrate his texts In doing so it attempts to position Stevenson as an important thinker and writer on the subject of illustrated literature and on the marriage of literature and visual arts at a moment preceding the dawn of cinema and the rejection of such popular tropes by modernist writers of the early twentieth century Strategies of Adaptation in Tourist Communication Gudrun

Held, 2018-01-29 The papers in this volume study the relationship between language use and the concept of the tourist gaze through a range of communicative practices from different cultures and languages From a pragmatic perspective the authors investigate how language constantly adapts to contextual constraints which affect tourism discourse as a strategic meaning making process that turns insignificant places into desirable tourist destinations The case studies draw on both in situ interactions with visitors such as guided tours and counter information old and new mediatized genres i e guide books travelogues print advertising as well as TV commercials service web sites and apps Despite the diversity of data one of the common findings in the volume is that staging the sensory lived tourist experience is the lynchpin of all communicative practices Hence the use of tourism language reveals itself as the mirror of how people on the move continuously enact as tourists and places are constructed as must see sights Tourist-information Texts Erik Castello, 2002 Shanghai Tour
