Herschel Folkes a twenty three year old man who one day receives a summons to report for jury duty Herschel is a fair skinned Jewish American native New Yorker and a clandestine bibliophile Herschel is considered clandestine because most of his closest personal friends are kept in complete ignorance of his strange attraction to literature which is how Herschel prefers to maintain his relationships Also unknown to anyone is the fact that Herschel is a deviant who daydreams all too often in an effort to fuel his surreal and daring imagination All of Herschel s vices contribute to his self indulging deviance but none more than his voracious love of literature and his interest in films He also has a romantic attraction to writing the most private of all his vices One day during a lunch break Herschel begins to write down his thoughts about being on jury duty in a notebook that he has brought along As Herschel devours his skimpy lunch he suddenly arrives at a wonderful idea Wouldn t it be fun to write a story to parallel his experiences as they were happening A story about a juror himself a novice writer of sorts who decides to cause a mistrial Herschel begins to write his story during lunch breaks and works on it during every opportunity he can get In addition he also works on it in his head during his many daydream spells while sitting in court when the trial is in session but is much more productive during long lunch breaks and many periods of free time when the trial is not in session As the Sophie Fields vs Jem Lumber Company trial progresses so does Herschel s story The trial lasts five days and as Herschel records the progress of the trial through his nameless protagonist he begins to show signs of ambivalence in his attitude about the trial These feelings are kept private and are only revealed through Herschel s many daydreams in which he seriously considers causing a mistrial It is through his daydreams that so much of Herschel s deviant personality is revealed especially on the day of deliberation
