

THE ALPHA MALE SERIES

A muscular Black man is the central figure, shirtless and wearing a green towel around his waist. He has a confident expression, looking slightly to the side. His right arm is raised, with his hand resting on his neck. He is wearing a thin chain necklace with a small, light blue pendant. The background is a lush tropical landscape with several palm trees and a body of water in the distance under a bright sky.

Moore, Joseph L. Galloway, 2012-11-06 New York Times Bestseller A powerful and epic story the best account of infantry combat I have ever read Col David Hackworth author of About Face In November 1965 some 450 men of the First Battalion Seventh Cavalry under the command of Lt Col Harold Moore were dropped into a small clearing in the Ia Drang Valley They were immediately surrounded by 2 000 North Vietnamese soldiers Three days later only two and a half miles away a sister battalion was brutally slaughtered Together these actions at the landing zones X Ray and Albany constituted one of the most savage and significant battles of the Vietnam War They were the first major engagements between the US Army and the People s Army of Vietnam How these Americans persevered sacrificing themselves for their comrades and never giving up creates a vivid portrait of war at its most Gullion LHS, 2015-07-31 Many years ago when one of my daughters was still a little girl I took her to the zoo We saw a gorilla enjoying the warming rays of the sun on a chilly autumn day For one brief moment we three were doing the same thing relaxing together in the welcomed rays of the sun Could I tell her that at one time in the distant past our direct ancestors were no more advanced than the gorilla Would she understand if informed that the gorilla was her relative and that she was even more closely related to a chimpanzee If it were possible to roll back the hands of time under some ideal set of circumstances this would be my story both now then This is how I'd tell her it happened Harry D Ape is biographical It is autobiographical It is about no one in particular and it is about everyone including our relatives It is fact and it is myth It explores who we are Fact and myth describe who we are It is hoped that after reading it the reader will never look at a human a chimp or a great ape in the same way again Foot Soldiers for Democracy Horace Huntley, John W. Carlson, 2008-01-15 This book explains the origins of what we generally refer to as Human Nature Despite the tremendous variation in human behavior there are several distinct traits that are common to our species in general and in fact common to all species These include dominance and submission aggression territoriality altruism loyalty to family and group mistrust of strangers and sex drive along with all of our automatic bodily functions such as heartbeat and respiration These functions and traits can be all lumped together under one heading that we refer to as the Instinct of Survival and originate in a small and very ancient part of our brain often called the Primitive Brain Stem My purpose in exploring these facts relating to human behavior is to inform the reader as to the natural origins of what are often completely illogical unreasonable and destructive emotions that result in war hatred violence bigotry and destruction The alternatives of peace cooperation reason and constructive action are simply decisions we all can make Men At War: What Fiction Tells us About Conflict, From The Iliad to Catch-22 Christopher Coker, 2014-05-01 Since Achilles first stormed into our imagination literature has introduced its readers to truly unforgettable martial characters In Men at War Christopher Coker discusses some of the most famous of these fictional creations and their impact on our understanding of war and masculinity Grouped into five archetypes warriors heroes villains survivors and victims these characters range across 3000 years of history through epic poems the modern novel and one of the twentieth century s most famous film scripts Great authors like Homer and Tolstoy show us aspects of reality invisible except through a literary lens while fictional characters such as Achilles and Falstaff Robert Jordan and Jack Aubrey are not just larger than life they are life s largeness and this is why we seek them out Although the Greeks knew that the lovers wives and mothers of soldiers are the chief victims of battle for the combatants war is a masculine pursuit Each of Coker s chapters explores what fiction tells us about war s appeal to young men and the way it makes and breaks them The existential appeal of war too is perhaps best conveyed in fictional accounts and these too are scrutinized by the author
