Pearson, 2025-05-01 Seattle police psychologist Daphne Mathews has her hands full with a pregnant addicted runaway teenager a murder victim's brother whose strange behavior unnerves her and a deputy sheriff she once treated who's now stalking her She's frightened enough to move in with Detective John LaMoia a development that doesn't exactly thrill Lou Boldt their boss and Daphne sex lover But Lou's too busy with his own cases to brood over John and Daphne the recent disappearances of two local women and the death of Billy Chen the nephew of Mama Lu an old friend and a powerful figure in Seattle's Chinese community which appeared to be an accident but turns out to have been murder The only thing the disappearances and murder have in common is location all three victims were last seen in a part of downtown built over the Underground a dark and dangerous warren of buildings abandoned after the fire that leveled Seattle more than a hundred years ago While Seattle's Underground has been the setting for several mysteries by other authors Earl Emerson J A Jance Pearson makes the most of its creepy crawly atmosphere in a gripping thriller whose solid plotting pulls all of Daphne's LaMoia's and Boldt's cases together It also wisely reconfigures the personal relationships among the three central characters which bodes well for their future adventures in this long running series Middle of Nowhere The Pied Piper Jane Adams himself when he finds an orphaned Chinese baby girl in the wilds outside of a mining town. He brings her home to his family who reluctantly take her in, but Charity grows up never feeling accepted among either the Asian immigrants or the whites. In these two worlds divided by prejudice, her only true and unconditional bond is with her protective rescuer Joe until Charity is drawn to a devoted young man who offers her something she's never had: a chance to really belong. As Charity's relationship with Chen Fai deepens, Joe is forced to confront his impermissible feelings for a girl he has come to love. But as the racial tensions in Wyoming Territory ignite, Charity is torn between two men and two cultures, between the forbidden and the safe, between loyalty and desire. Only by following her heart can Charity find her future and a place to finally call home. The Eclectic Magazine of Foreign Literature, Science, and Art, 1855 The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art, 1876 Corporeal Readings of Cuban Literature and Art Christina M. García, 2024-05-21 Tracing corporeality and materiality across Cuban texts and images of the twentieth century. This volume looks at Cuban literature and art that challenge traditional assumptions about the body. Examining how writers and artists have depicted racial, gender, and species differences throughout the past century, Christina García identifies historical continuities in the way they have emphasized the shared materiality of bodies. García shows how these works interact with ecologies of the human and nonhuman across diverse media, time periods, and ideologies. García examines corporeality in a variety of works, including the poetry of Nicolás Guillén and experimental writings of Severo Sarduy; transspecies drawings, paintings, and sculptures by Roberto Fabelo, Tomás Gutiérrez Alea's popular queer film Fresa y chocolate, and contemporary narrative fictions by Ena Lucía Portela, Antonio José Ponte, and Ahmel Echevarría. Using the lenses of new materialism, critical race studies, critical animal studies, queer studies, and poststructuralism, García engages with Cuban cultural production at the intersection of diverse social issues. In this book, García explores how certain artistic practices focus on portraying ecological relationships instead of recognizable subjects or shared identity. Corporeal Readings of Cuban Literature and Art demonstrates that through their attention to the connections that different kinds of bodies share, Cuban creators have long undermined rules of classification and unification, reimagining community as shared vulnerability and difference. Publication of this work made possible by a Sustaining the Humanities through the American Rescue Plan grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities.
