The Ageless Self

Sharon R. Kaufman

The Ageless Self:

The Ageless Self Sharon R. Kaufman, 1986 Among the many studies of aging and the aged there is comparatively little material in which the aged speak for themselves In this compelling study Sharon Kaufman encourages just such expression recording and presenting the voices of a number of old Americans Her informants tell their life stories and relate their most personal feelings about becoming old Each story is unique and yet presented together they inevitably weave a clear pattern one that clashes sharply with much current gerontological thought With this book Sharon Kaufman allows us to understand the experience of the aging by listening to the aged themselves Kaufman while maintaining objectivity is able to draw an intimate portrait of her subjects We come to know these people as individuals and we become involved with their lives Through their words we find that the aging process is not merely a period of sensory functional economic and social decline Old people continue to participate in society and more important continue to interpret their participation in the social world Through themes constructed from these stories we can see how the old not only cope with losses but how they create new meaning as they reformulate and build viable selves Creating identity Kaufman stresses is a lifelong process Sharon Kaufman's book will be of interest and value not only to students of gerontology and life span development and to professionals in the field of aging but to everyone who is concerned with the aging process itself As Sharon Kaufman says If we can find the sources of meaning held by the elderly and see how individuals put it all together we will go a long way toward appreciating the complexity of human aging and the ultimate reality of coming to terms with one's whole life

Danely,2015-01-02 By 2030 over 30% of the Japanese population will be 65 or older foreshadowing the demographic changes occurring elsewhere in Asia and around the world What can we learn from a study of the aging population of Japan and how can these findings inform a path forward for the elderly their families and for policy makers Based on nearly a decade of research Aging and Loss examines how the landscape of aging is felt understood and embodied by older adults themselves In detailed portraits anthropologist Jason Danely delves into the everyday lives of older Japanese adults as they construct narratives through acts of reminiscence social engagement and ritual practice and reveals the pervasive cultural aesthetic of loss and of being a burden Through first hand accounts of rituals in homes cemeteries and religious centers Danely argues that what he calls the self in suspense can lead to the emergence of creative participation in an economy of care In everyday rituals for the spirits older adults exercise agency and reinterpret concerns of social abandonment within a meaningful cultural narrative and by reimagining themselves and their place in the family through these rituals older adults in Japan challenge popular attitudes about eldercare Danely s discussion of health and long term care policy and community welfare organizations reveal a complex picture of Japan s aging society Home and Sexuality Rachael M Scicluna,2017-07-12

This book explores the meanings and experiences of home among a group of lesbians who over the past five decades have sought to create alternative intimate and public living spaces The protagonists who enact the ethnographic narrative are a small group of older lesbians mainly feminist activists residing in the metropolis of London The meaning of home and domestic space emerges from unique life histories informed by the wider social and political context and moves from the earliest memories of their childhood kitchens to their contemporary domestic lives Leaping from the radical lesbian feministcollectives and squats of the 1980s to the ordinariness of home life the kitchen emerged as a tangle of cultural norms customs duties ideas aspirations expectations and values that tells us about the thinking process and behaviour of this specific group of older lesbians In this context the kitchen brings out the experiences of social inequalities experienced by these older lesbians mainly brought out by the hegemonic institution of heteronormativity and patriarchy This ethnography will be of interest to students and scholars across a range of disciplines in anthropology sociology geography and feminism

Challenges and Hopes in the New Frontier of Aging When Near Becomes Far Mira Balberg, Haim Weiss, 2021-03-09
When Near Becomes Far explores representations and depictions of old age in the rabbinic Jewish literature of late antiquity 150 600 CE Each chapter focuses on a different aspect of aging in the rabbinic world bodily appearance and sexuality family relations intellectual and cognitive prowess honor and shame and social roles and identity The book shows that ancient rabbinic texts offer rich and moving observations on aging many of which are still relevant today Performing Age in Modern Drama Valerie Barnes Lipscomb, 2016-07-14 This book is the first to examine age across the modern and contemporary dramatic canon from Arthur Miller and Tennessee Williams to Paula Vogel and Doug Wright All ages across the life course are interpreted as performance and performative both on page and on stage including professional productions and senior theatre groups The common admonition act your age provides the springboard for this study which rests on the premise that age is performative in nature and that issues of age and performance crystallize in the theatre Dramatic conventions include characters who change ages from one moment to the next overtly demonstrating on stage the reiterated actions that create a performative illusion of stable age Moreover directors regularly cast actors in these plays against their chronological ages Lipscomb contends that while the plays reflect varying attitudes toward performing age as a whole they reveal a longing for an ageless self a desire to present a consistent unified identity The works mirror prevailing social perceptions of the aging process as well as the tension between chronological age physiological age and cultural constructions of age Metaphors of Identity Thomas K. Fitzgerald, 1993-09-06 Placing identity within its cultural context Fitzgerald offers ethnographic case material to examine the meaning and changing metaphors of ethnicity male and female identity and aging and identity He opens up an exciting multidisciplinary dialogue for improving interpersonal and cross cultural communication The book provides a clear synthesis of the interrelated meanings of culture identity and communication examining self concept and its role in the communication process and exploring cultural and biological research on self individuality personality and mind body questions The Dissertation Iain Borden, 2006-08-14 The Dissertation is one of the most demanding yet potentially most stimulating components of an architectural course Properly done it can be a valuable contribution not only to the students own learning development but also to the field of architecture as a whole This book provides a complete guide to what to do how to do it when to do it and the major pitfalls involved This is a comprehensive guide to all that an architecture student might need to know about undertaking the dissertation including new material on CD ROM and online sources web based research techniques digital images alternative imaging strategies key architecture links referencing and new dissertation extracts It clearly navigates the student through the whole process of writing preparing and submitting a dissertation as well as suggesting what to do after the dissertation has been completed Subjects covered include how to write a proposal which research methodologies and techniques to adopt which libraries and archives to utilize including special architectural resources on the net as well as how to structure reference and illustrate the final submission The authors also take architecture students into new terrain suggesting alternative methods of undertaking dissertations whether as video prose writing multimedia or other forms of expression Furthermore this guide includes new examples of exemplary dissertations of all kinds as completed by students in Europe and North America so that the reader can clearly see the kinds of work which they themselves might choose to pursue Also in the Seriously Useful Guides Series The Crit The Portfolio Practical Experience

George Kateb John Seery, 2014-10-24 George Kateb's writings have been innovatory in exploring the fundamental quandary of how modern democracy sovereignty vested in the many might nevertheless protect respect promote even celebrate the singular albeit ordinary individual His essays often leading to unexpected results have focused on many inter related topics rights representation constitutionalism war evil extinction punishment privacy patriotism and more This book focuses in particular on his thought in three key areas Dignity These essays exhibit the breadth and complexity of Kateb's notion of dignity and outline some implications for political theory Rather than a solely moral approach to the theory of human rights he elaborates a human dignity rationale for the very worth of the human species Morality Here Kateb challenges the position that moral considerations are often too demanding to have a place in the rough and tumble of modern politics and political analysis Rejecting common justifications for the propriety of punishment he insists that state based punishment is a perplexing moral problem that cannot be allayed by repairing to theories of state legitimacy Individuality These essays gather some of Kateb's rejoinders and correctives to common conceptions and customary critiques of the theory of democratic individuality He explains that Locke's hesitations and religious backtracking are instructive perhaps as precursors for the ways in which vestigial beliefs can still cloud moral reasoning

Handbook of Emotion, Adult Development, and Aging Carol Magai, Susan H. McFadden, 1996-10-24 The field of emotions research has recently seen an unexpected period of growth and expansion both in traditional psychological literature and in gerontology The Handbook of Emotion Adult Development and Aging provides a broad overview and summary of where this field stands today specifically with reference to life course issues and aging Written by a distinguished group of contributing authors the text is grounded in a life span developmental framework while advancing a multidimensional view of emotion and its development and incorporating quantitative and qualitative research findings The book is divided into five parts Part One discusses five major theoretical perspectives including biological discrete emotions ethological humanistic and psychosocial Part Two on affect and cognition discusses the role of emotion in memory problem solving and internal perceptions of self and gender Part Three on emotion and relationships expands on the role of emotion in sibling and parent child relationships as well as relationships between friends and romantic partners and the emotional reaction to interpersonal loss across the life span Part Four on stress health and psychological well being treats issues of stress and coping religion personality and quality of life The final part on continuity and change in emotion patterns and personality discusses emotion and emotionality throughout the life span An ideal reference source for professionals across a wide range of disciplines the text summarizes recent important developments in this fast growing area of psychology and proposes many new directions for future research Provides a biopsychological view on emotion in adulthood from a life span context Presents the new perspective on emotion in older adults actively engaged in emotion self regulation Describes the intimate connection between emotion and the structure of personality Demonstrates a new perspective on what emotion is its importance across the life span its connections with cognition its role in interpersonal relation and the way it influences both stability and change in adulthood Illustrates the interpersonal nature of emotion Provides theoretically based leading edge research from international authors Five areas of coverage include Theoretical perspectives Affect and cognition Emotion and relationships Stress health and psychological well being Continuity and change in emotion patterns and personality Coverage includes Five major theoretical perspectives including biological discrete emotions ethological humanistic and psychosocial The role of emotion in memory problem solving and internal perceptions of self and gender The role of emotion in sibling and parent child relationships relationships between friends and romantic partners and the emotional reaction to interpersonal loss across the lifespan Issues of stress and coping religion personality and quality of life Emotion and emotionality throughout the lifespan

Science of Caring, 1993 Aging in a Changing World Molly George, 2021-10-15

Aging in a Changing World challenges simplified images of old people as racist nostalgic and resistant to change stereotypes that have only grown more prevalent with the Brexit vote and the 2016 election of Donald Trump This book takes a deep nuanced look at the experiences of older people who while aging in place have been profoundly impacted by global population movement and the dramatic development of modern multiculturalism around them

Gerotranscendence Lars Tornstam, 2005-06-20 Given the 2006 GREAT GERONTOLOGY AWARD for outstanding contribution to gerontological research by the Swedish Gerontological Society Received a VALUE GROUND AWARD from the journal Aldreomsorg Old Age Care Expanding upon his earlier writings Dr Tornstam s latest book explores the need for new theories in gerontology and sets the stage for the development of his theory of gerotranscendence This theory was developed to address what the author sees as a perpetual mismatch between present theories in social gerontology and existing empirical data The development towards gerotranscendence can involve some overlooked developmental changes that are related to increased life satisfaction as self described by individuals The gerotranscendent individual typically experiences a redefinition of the Self and of relationships to others and a new understanding of fundamental existential questions The individual becomes less self occupied and at the same time more selective in the choice of social and other activities There is an increased feeling of affinity with past generations and a decreased interest in superfluous social interaction The individual might also experience a decrease in interest in material things and a greater need for solitary meditation Positive solitude becomes more important There is also often a feeling of cosmic communion with the spirit of the universe and a redefinition of time space life and death Gerotranscendence does NOT imply any state of withdrawal or disengagement as sometimes erroneously believed It is not the old disengagement theory in new disguise Rather it is a theory that describes a developmental pattern beyond the old dualism of activity and disengagement The author supports his theory with insightful qualitative in depth interviews with older persons and quantitative studies In addition Tornstam illustrates the practical implications of the theory of gerotranscendence for professionals working with older adults in care settings A useful Appendix contains suggestions of how to facilitate personal development toward gerotranscendence For Further Information Please Click Here The

Oxford Handbook of Montaigne Philippe Desan,2016-10-14 In 1580 Michel de Montaigne 1533 1592 published a book unique by its title and its content EssaysR A literary genre was born At first sight the Essays resemble a patchwork of personal reflections but they engage with questions that animate the human mind and tend toward a single goal to live better in the present and to prepare for death For this reason Montaigne s thought and writings have been a subject of enduring interest across disciplines This Handbook brings together essays by prominent scholars that examine Montaigne s literary philosophical and political contributions and assess his legacy and relevance today in a global perspective The chapters of this Handbook offer a sweeping study of Montaigne across different disciplines and in a global perspective One section covers the historical Montaigne situating his thought in his own time and space notably the Wars of Religion in France The political historical and religious context of Montaigne s Essays requires a rigorous presentation to inform the modern reader of the issues and problems that confronted Montaigne and his contemporaries in his own time In addition to this contextual approach to Montaigne the Handbook also establishes a connection between Montaigne s writings and issues and problems directly relevant to our modern times that is to say our age of global ideology Montaigne s considerations or essays offer a point of departure for the modern reader s own assessments The Essays analyze what can be broadly defined as human nature the endless process by which the individual tries to impose opinions upon others through the production of laws policies or philosophies Montaigne s motto What do I know is a simple question yet one of perennial significance One could argue that reading Montaigne today teaches us that the angle defines the world we see or as Montaigne wrote What matters is not merely that we see the thing but how we see it Handbook of Aging and Mental Health Jacob

Lomranz,2013-11-21 This comprehensive resource responds to a growing need for theory and multidisciplinary integrative research in adult and gerontological health Handbook of Aging and Mental Healthbrings together for the first time diverse strategies and methodologies as well as theoretical formulations involving psychodynamic behavioral psychosocial and biological systems as they relate to aging and health Forward thinking in his approach Lomranz provides the mental health adult developmental and geriatric professions with a single reference source that covers theory construction empirical
