The Invention of Disaster JC Gaillard, 2021-12-30 This theoretical contribution argues that the domination of Western knowledge in disaster scholarship has allowed normative policies and practices of disaster risk reduction to be imposed all over the world. It takes a postcolonial approach to unpack why scholars claim that disasters are social constructs while offering little but theories, concepts and methods supposed to be universal in understanding the unique and diverse experiences of millions of people across very different cultures. It further challenges forms of governments inherited from the Enlightenment that have been rolled out as standard and ultimate solutions to reduce the risk of disaster. Ultimately, the book encourages the emergence of a more diverse set of world views, senses and ways of knowing for both studying disasters and informing policy and practice of disaster risk reduction. Such pluralism is essential to better reflect local realities of what disasters actually are around the world. This book is an essential read for scholars and postgraduate students interested in disaster studies as well as policy makers and practitioners of disaster risk reduction. Everlasting Flowers between the Pages Jessie Wei-Hsuan Chen, 2025-09-25 In seventeenth century Europe florilegia were lavishly produced picture books that featured hand drawn or printed illustrations of a wide variety of flowers. Many of the plants depicted in florilegia stemmed from the Americas and Asia and were much desired for cultivation and study in European gardens. By approaching florilegia as material objects, this colourfully illustrated volume offers new insights into how florilegia mirrored different forms of plant knowledge. The volume reconstructs the expertise which gardeners, compilers of florilegia and image makers must have possessed in order to cultivate the once living specimens and immortalise the flowers on paper and parchment. The American Cyclopaedia George Ripley, Charles Anderson Dana, 1874 The American Cyclopædia George Ripley, Charles Anderson Dana, 1874 Geophysical Abstracts, 1969 The Shadow-test in the diagnosis and estimation of ametropia William Mardon Beaumont, 1890 The Expanding Earth Pascual Jordan, 2016-05-24 International Series of Monographs in Natural Philosophy Volume 37 The Expanding Earth Some Consequences of Dirac's Gravitation Hypothesis focuses on the applications of Dirac's gravitation hypothesis. The book first discusses objections to Dirac's hypothesis and expansion cracks including geological chronology, astrophysical objections, rift valleys, rills of the moon, deep sea trenches and oceanic rifts. The text then looks at the origin of the oceans as well as growth and shrink of continents, expansion and formation of oceans, growth of land areas and paleomagnetism. The manuscript examines the physics of the earth-moon system. Topics include rheology and seismic exploration of the earth's interior, quantitative data about the earth's expansion and Dirac's hypothesis and the many-body problem. The book also offers information on volcanoes, lunar craters, folded mountains and ice ages. Topics include Binge's explanation of volcanism, folded mountains and submarine tablemounts and currents The text is a dependable source of data for readers interested in Dirac's gravitation hypothesis British Medical Journal ,1882 Bookseller and the Stationery Trades' Journal ,1874
