Michelin then Pierre Jules Boulanger and finally Robert Puiseux and Pierre Bercot His oeuvre for Citroen alone earns him a place of honour among the great automobile designers of the past century The fact that most present day cars still carry the DNA of his design philosophy makes him stand out above other automotive pioneers and innovators That is why it is amazing that so little is known about this fascinating and brilliant engineer This book was written in order to remedy that and to pay tribute to Andre Lefebvre the passionate pioneer who left car enthusiasts around the world such an important heritage strategy might specify a premium position or a massmerchandise discount approach These obviously have direct impact on the pricing 3 Price is only one of the marketing variables but for the case of premium brands it is important The pricing position is one determinant for the development of a brand identity incidentally not only among customers and potential customers but also among society employees etc As part of the company's target market and positioning objectives that largely determine the pricing strategy price reflects the quality of the branded product and likewise the prestige that the user gains through this brand In this paper it will be shown which role pricing plays in the brand concept of premium cars and what the case of the cars says about the theory and practice of premium brands
