Handbook of Combinatorial Optimization Ding-Zhu Du, Panos M. Pardalos, 2013-03-14 Combinatorial or discrete optimization is one of the most active fields in the interface of operations research computer science and applied mathematics Combinatorial optimization problems arise in various applications including communications network design VLSI design machine vision air line crew scheduling corporate planning computer aided design and manufacturing database query design cellular telephone frequency assignment constraint directed reasoning and computational biology Furthermore combinatorial optimization problems occur in many diverse areas such as linear and integer programming graph theory artificial intelligence and number theory All these problems when formulated mathematically as the minimization or maximization of a certain function defined on some domain have a commonality of discreteness Historically combinatorial optimization starts with linear programming Linear programming has an entire range of important applications including production planning and distribution personnel assignment finance allocation of economic resources circuit simulation and control systems Leonid Kantorovich and Tjalling Koopmans received the Nobel Prize 1975 for their work on the optimal allocation of resources Two important discoveries the ellipsoid method 1979 and interior point approaches 1984 both provide polynomial time algorithms for linear programming These algorithms have had a profound effect in combinatorial optimization Many polynomial time solvable combinatorial optimization problems are special cases of linear programming e.g. matching and maximum flow In addition linear programming relaxations are often the basis for many approximation algorithms for solving NP hard problems e.g. dual heuristics

Handbook of Space Technology Wilfried Ley, Klaus Wittmann, Willi Hallmann, 2009-03-18 Twenty years since the first edition was published in the German language and just over fifty years since the launch of the Earth's first ever artificial satellite Sputnik 1 this third edition of the Handbook of Space Technology presents in fully integrated colour a detailed insight into the fascinating world of space for the first time in the English language Authored by over 70 leading experts from universities research institutions and the space industry this comprehensive handbook describes the processes and methodologies behind the development construction operation and utilization of space systems presenting the profound changes that have occurred in recent years in the engineering materials processes and even politics associated with space technologies and utilization The individual chapters are self contained enabling the reader to gain a quick and reliable overview of a selected field an extensive reference and keyword list helps those who wish to deepen their understanding of individual topics Featuring superb full colour illustrations and photography throughout this interdisciplinary reference contains practical hands on engineering and planning information that will be invaluable to those on a career path within space technology or simply for those of us who'd like to know more about this fascinating industry Main section headings include Introduction historical overview space missions Fundamentals orbital mechanics aerothermodynamics reentry space debris Launch Vehicles staged technologies propulsion systems launch around the world The book helps newcomers to obtain a quick start into the practical value and benefits of multi sensor image fusion Experts will find this book useful to obtain an overview on the state of the art and understand current constraints that need to be solved in future research efforts For industry professionals the book can be a great introduction and basis to understand multisensor remote sensing image exploitation and the development of commercialized image fusion software from a practical perspective The book concludes with a chapter on current trends and future developments in remote sensing image fusion Along with the book RSIF website provides additional up to date information in the field

Servicing Satellite TV Equipment Nick Beer,1998-05-20 This is the definitive practical guide to fault finding troubleshooting and servicing satellite television equipment both indoors and outdoors It will take you through all areas of satellite television system servicing from the simplest fixed dish to fully motorised systems From PAL to Mac to MPEG all contemporary systems are covered Satellite TV systems have been installed in a wide variety of locations using a bewildering range of equipment That equipment is beginning to need maintenance and repair To cope with the volume and variety of work Nick Beer has written the first guide to satellite TV which concentrates on what to look for and what to do when it goes wrong This book is up to date and crammed with real life experience not theoretical data or manufacturer s ideal specs Nick Beer has already written the best selling Servicing Audio and Hi fi Equipment and is a technical correspondent for many UK and international journals such as Television He also works as an engineer and teaches satellite servicing to technicians A practical guide to a new and important area for service engineers Covers indoor and outdoor equipment Written by an experienced author teacher and engineer Earth Resources ,1977

Handbook of Air Quality and Climate Change Hajime Akimoto,Hiroshi Tanimoto,2023-09-27 This handbook covers the air quality air pollution from the viewpoints of causing impacts on human ecosystem health and climate change Traditionally air pollution has been a concern mainly in terms of its impacts on human health and it is still an immediate public and governmental concern in most Asian countries However in recent years so called extreme weather events such as stronger tropical cyclones flooding drought and other phenomena have been manifested causing tremendous losses of human lives and properties Importantly climate models tell us that such extreme weather events are actually induced by anthropogenic global warming It has been pointed out that mitigation or alleviation of such climate change leading to the extreme weather events in the next 30 years can be possible only by reducing air pollutants with positive radiative forcing such as ozone or methane which are called short lived climate pollutants SLCPs Here concerns about mitigation of air pollutants from the points of human health and climate change have merged This book covers different kinds of air pollutants and radiative forcers and how they can be measured It also mentions the situation of air pollutants in different continents and their regional impacts to human health environment and economy as well as their link to extreme weather events The book presents how the air pollution and climate change can be mitigated and how clean air technologies and international initiatives for co controlling air pollution and climate change have
