A.C.S. Peacock, Bruno De Nicola, 2016-03-09 Islam and Christianity in Medieval Anatolia offers a comparative approach to understanding the spread of Islam and Muslim culture in medieval Anatolia It aims to reassess work in the field since the 1971 classic by Speros Vryonis The Decline of Hellenism in Asia Minor and the Process of Islamization which treats the process of transformation from a Byzantinist perspective Since then research has offered insights into individual aspects of Christian Muslim relations but no overview has appeared Moreover very few scholars of Islamic studies have examined the problem meaning evidence in Arabic Persian and Turkish has been somewhat neglected at the expense of Christian sources and too little attention has been given to material culture The essays in this volume examine the interaction between Christianity and Islam in medieval Anatolia through three distinct angles opening with a substantial introduction by the editors to explain both the research background and the historical problem making the work accessible to scholars from other fields The first group of essays examines the Christian experience of living under Muslim rule comparing their experiences in several of the major Islamic states of Anatolia between the eleventh and fifteenth centuries especially the Seljuks and the Ottomans The second set of essays examines encounters between Christianity and Islam in art and intellectual life They highlight the ways in which some traditions were shared across confessional divides suggesting the existence of a common artistic and hence cultural vocabulary The final section focusses on the process of Islamisation above all as seen from the Arabic Persian and Turkish textual evidence with special attention to the role of Sufism Lemon-Aid guilty of the crimes she was foretelling Set in the world of the Qajar monarchs mayors ministers and mullahs this book explores the dangerous yet luminous legacy left by a remarkable person Bahiyyih Nakhjavani offers a gripping tale that is at once a compelling history of a pioneering woman a story of nineteenth century Iran told from the street level up and a work that is universally relevant to our times Mordant and seethingly intelligent Sam Sacks Wall Street Journal An engrossing story Gayatri Devi World Literature Today Haunting reminds us all that whether Tudor Qajar or Clinton behind every throne is a queen mother wife and sister who runs the show Davar Ardalan Washington Independent Review Nakjavani offers a philosophically complex yet lyrically wrought examination of the eternal struggle for women s rights Carol Haggas Booklist Nakhjavani deftly transforms an incomplete history into legend An expertly crafted epic Kirkus Reviews Eros and Sexuality in Islamic Art Francesca Leoni,Mika Natif,2013 Dedicated to the topic of eroticism and sexuality in the visual production of the medieval and early modern Muslim world this volume offers new insights and methodological models that extend our understanding of erotic and sexual subjects in the Islamic tradition The essays shed light on the diverse socio cultural milieus of erotic images on the motivations underlying their production and on the responses generated by their circulation The Kurdish Question Revisited Gareth R. V. Stansfield,Mohammed Shareef,2017 The Kurds once marginal in the study of the Middle East and secondary in its international relations have moved to centre stage in recent years In Turkey where the Kurdish question is an issue of national significance and in Iraq where the gains made by the Kurdistan Regional Government have allowed it to impose its authority moves are afoot to solve the Kurdish Question once and for all The picture is less positive in Syria where the Kurds have borne the brunt of the Islamic State s onslaught and in Iran where they struggle to express their cultural distinctiveness and suffer disproportionately at the hands of the Islamic Republic s security apparatus Yet the situations in both countries remain in flux affected by developments in Iraq and Turkey in a manner that suggests we may have to revise the notion of the Kurds being forever divided by the boundaries of the Middle East s and subsumed into the state projects of other nations The contributors to The Kurdish Question Revisited offer insights into how this once seemingly intractable immutable phenomenon is being transformed amid the new political realities of the Middle East Publisher s description The Politics of Naming the Armenian Genocide Vartan Matiossian,2021-09-23 This book explores the genealogy of the concept of Medz Yeghern Great Crime the Armenian term for the mass murder and ethnic cleansing of the Armenian ethno religious group in the Ottoman Empire between the years 1915 1923 Widely accepted by historians as one of the classical cases of genocide in the 20th century ascribing the right definition to the crime has been a source of contention and controversy in international politics Vartan Matiossian here draws upon extensive research based on Armenian sources neglected in much of the current historiography as well as other European languages in order to trace the development of the concepts pertaining to mass killing and genocide of Armenians from the ancient to the modern periods Beginning with an analysis of the term itself he shows how the politics of its use evolved as Armenians struggled for international recognition of the crime after 1945 in the face of Turkish protest Taking a combined historical philological literary and political perspective the book is an insightful exploration of the politics of naming a catastrophic historical event and the competitive nature of national collective memories The Mirror of the Medieval K. Patrick Fazioli, 2017-05-01

Since its invention by Renaissance humanists the myth of the Middle Ages has held a uniquely important place in the Western historical imagination Whether envisioned as an era of lost simplicity or a barbaric nightmare the medieval past has always served as a mirror for modernity This book gives an eye opening account of the ways various political and intellectual projects from nationalism to the discipline of anthropology have appropriated the Middle Ages for their own ends Deploying an interdisciplinary toolkit author K Patrick Fazioli grounds his analysis in contemporary struggles over power and identity in the Eastern Alps while also considering the broader implications for scholarly research and public memory Theater State and the Formation of Early Modern Public Sphere in Iran Babak Rahimi, 2011-11-11

During the Safavid period the Shi i Muharram commemorative rites which had been publically practiced since the 7th century became a manifestation of state power Already during the reign of Shah Abbas I 1587 1629 the Muharram rituals had transformed into an extraordinary rich repertoire of ceremonies and ceremonial spaces that can be defined as theater state Under Shah Safi I 1629 1642 these ceremonies ultimately led to carnivalesque celebrations of misrule and transgression This first systematic study of a wide range of Persian and European archival and primary sources analyzes how the Muharram rites changed from being an originally devotional practice to an ambiguous ritualization that in combination with other public arenas such as the bazaar coffeehouses or travel lodges created distinct spaces of communication whereby the widening gap between state and society gave way to the formation of the early Iranian public sphere Ultimately the Muharram public spaces allowed for a shift in individual and collective identities opening the way to multifaceted living fields of interaction as well as being sites of contestation where innovative expressions of politics were made In particular the construction of the new Isfahan in 1590 is linked with the widespread proliferation of the Muharram mortuary rites by discussing rituals performed in major urban spaces
