O'Mara,2013-11-11 We live in the silicon age and the quintessential item that defines our world is the computer Silicon chips power the computer as well as many other products for work and leisure such as calculators radios and televisions In the forty years since the transistor was invented the solid state revolution has affected the lives of almost everyone in the world Based on silicon solid state devices and integrated circuits have revolutionized electronics data processing communica tions and the like The computer especially the personal computer would be impossible without silicon devices Only one computer was ever built using vacuum tubes and the tubes had to be constantly replaced because they generated too much heat and burned out Silicon devices allowed for reliable switching operations in arrays of hundreds and thousands of discrete devices As a result the very substantial industrial base that existed for producing vacuum tubes disappeared with one exception That exception is of course the CRT which is evident in televisions computer displays and a host of other information display terminals Until recently there was nothing that could take its place and it seemed that the CRT would remain as the electronic medium for all except the simplest displays The CRT is about to go the way of the other vacuum tubes It s dead but doesn t know it yet Self-Repair Networks Yoshiteru Ishida,2015-12-22 This book describes the struggle to introduce a mechanism that enables next generation information systems to maintain themselves Our generation observed the birth and growth of information systems and the Internet in particular Surprisingly information systems are quite different from conventional energy material intensive artificial systems and rather resemble biological systems information intensive systems Many artificial systems are designed based on Newtonian physics assuming that every element obeys simple and static rules however the experience of the Internet suggests a different way of designing where growth cannot be controlled but self organized with autonomous and selfish agents This book suggests using game theory a mechanism design in particular for designing next generation information systems which will be self organized by collective acts with autonomous components The challenge of mapping a probability to time appears repeatedly in many forms throughout this book The book contains interdisciplinary research encompassing game theory complex systems reliability theory and particle physics All devoted to its central theme what happens if systems self repair themselves Flat Panel Display Manufacturing Jun Souk,Shinji Morozumi,Fang-Chen Luo,Ion Bitu,2018-07-23 An extensive introduction to the engineering and manufacture of current and next generation flat panel displays This book provides a broad overview of the manufacturing of flat panel displays with a particular emphasis on the display systems at the forefront of the current mobile device revolution It is structured to cover a broad spectrum of topics within the unifying theme of display systems manufacturing An important theme of this book is treating displays as systems which expands the scope beyond the technologies and manufacturing of traditional display panels LCD and OLED to also include key components for mobile device applications such as flexible OLED thin LCD backlights as well as the manufacturing of display module assemblies Flat Panel Display Manufacturing fills an important gap in the current book literature describing the state of the art in display manufacturing for today s displays and looks to create a reference the development of next generation displays The editorial team brings a broad and deep perspective on flat panel display manufacturing with a global view spanning decades of experience at leading institutions in Japan Korea Taiwan and the USA and including direct pioneering contributions to the development of displays The book includes a total of 24 chapters contributed by experts at leading manufacturing institutions from the global FPD industry in Korea Japan Taiwan Germany
