The African Magician:

The African Magician Francis Powles, 1930* African Magic Heidi Holland, 2012-09-26 Africa's traditional beliefs including ancestor worship, divination and witchcraft continue to dominate its spiritual influences. Readers in search of a better understanding of the continent will be enriched by this book's timely exploration of sub-Saharan Africa's natural philosophy. The author's meticulous research reveals that whereas technology-driven Western societies prefer to rely largely on logical explanations, many Africans continue to obey their intuition, trusting in images, dreams and divination to rationalise misfortune and illness. African Magic explains why so many Africans understand the relationship between people and unfortunate events not through the Western concept of chance in the case of accidents or germ theory in the case of illness, but through belief in witchcraft. The book records a collection of true stories which illustrate this traditional belief system. Included are the famous Malawian diviner whose prophecies were considered so accurate that people flocked from neighbouring countries to consult him; a group of Western-trained Mozambican psychologists who successfully refined cross-cultural therapy by working with traditional healers to combat post-traumatic stress syndrome among child soldiers; Ghanaian and Zimbabwean witches living in a nightmare world where popular belief becomes their reality; and a Zambian archbishop whose attempt to embrace traditional African beliefs provoked serious conflict within his Christian church.

The African Magician, 2010 The African magician is based on Afeif Ismail's play The Son of the Sun, which has been commissioned by Barking Gecko Theatre. A transcreation is an artistic reworking of a literal translation in conjunction with the original writer. The African Magician Afeif Ismail, 2010-06-06 In a valley nestled between two hills is a small village and a world of magic to explore. Join Grandmother's Daughter and her friends on an enchanting journey of discovery. Featuring puppetry, song and dance, The African Magician is a celebration of child's play in a different culture. Originally written in Arabic by Australian Sudanese playwright Afeif Ismail, the play is performed in English and combines the atmosphere of African street performance with contemporary narrative theatre. Puppetry, mask dance and original African music transport audiences to Sudan. The three actors play the children, villagers, animals and spirits and encourage audience members to join in the celebration of traditional African culture. Sindbad Muhsin Mahdi, 2016-03-21 Now as sumptuously packaged as they are critically acclaimed, new deluxe trade paperback editions of the beloved stories. Husain Haddawy's rapturously received translation of The Arabian Nights is based on a landmark reconstruction of the earliest extant manuscript version. Readers of this classic will also want to own Sindbad, a collection of four later stories associated with the Arabian Nights tradition, including Sindbad the Sailor and Aladdin and the Magic Lamp. The Complete Book of Spells, Ceremonies, and Magic Migene González-Wippler, 1988 Theory, What Is Magic, The Evolution of Magic, The Gods, The Elements of Magic, Initiation and Adepthood, Types of Magic, White versus Black, Techniques of Magic, The Four Elements, The Kabbalah and Its Magical Correspondences, The Astral Plane, Ceremonial Magic, The Sacred and the Profane, Books of Magic.
