A Cultural History of Shopping in Antiquity Mary Harlow, Ray Laurence, 2022-06-02 A Cultural History of Shopping was a Library Journal Best in Reference selection for 2022 Covering the period from 500 BCE to 500 CE this is the first book to address the cultural history of shoppers and shopping in antiquity Evidence for the existence of shops has been found across many archaeological sites in Europe North Africa and the Middle East but the study of shops and retailing in antiquity is a relatively new subject From Classical Greece through to the Late Roman Empire shopping shifted from being a means to an end a method of supplementing the family diet or providing material goods the household could not manufacture itself to a form of experience where the processes of browsing and not purchasing became as important as buying This dramatic transformation is a reflection of the changing material desires of these societies and their perspectives on the ways in which the fulfilment of those desires could be achieved Recurring themes in this interdisciplinary volume include the lives of ordinary people the relationship between gender and shopping the contrast between Greece and Rome the attitudes towards shopkeepers the placing of shops in the cityscape and the zoning of particular crafts and products A Cultural History of Shopping in Antiquity presents an overview of the period with themes addressing practices and processes spaces and places shoppers and identities luxury and everyday home and family visual and literary representations reputation trust and credit and governance regulation and the state

A Cultural History of Comedy in Antiquity Michael Ewans, 2021-12-30 Drawing together contributions from scholars in a wide range of fields inside Classics and Drama this volume traces the development of comedic performance and examines the different characteristics of Greek and Roman comedy Although the origins of comedy are obscure this study argues that comedic performances were at the heart of Graeco Roman culture from around 486 BCE to the mid first century BCE It explores the range of comedies during this period which were fictional dramas that engaged with the political and social concerns of ancient society and also at times with mythology and tragedy The volume centres largely around the surviving work of Aristophanes and Menander in Athens and Plautus and Terence in Rome but authors whose plays survive only in fragments are also discussed Performances and plays drew on a range of forms including satire and fantasy and were designed to entertain and amuse their audiences while also asking them to question issues of morality privilege and class Each chapter takes a different theme as its focus from theory praxis identities the body politics and power laughter and ethics These eight different approaches to ancient comedy add up to an extensive synoptic coverage of the subject

A Cultural History of the Senses in Antiquity Jerry Toner, 2014-10-23 The ancient world used the senses to express an enormous range of cultural meanings Indeed the senses were functionally significant in all aspects of ancient life often in ways that were complex and interconnected Antiquity was also a period where the senses were experienced vividly cities stank statues were brightly painted and literature made full use of sensory imagery to create its effects In a steeply hierarchical world with vast differences between the landed wealthy the poor and the slaves the senses played a key role in establishing and maintaining boundaries between social groups but the use of the senses in the ancient world was not static New religions such as Christianity developed their own way of using the senses acquiring unique forms of sensory related symbolism in processes which were slow and often contested The aim of this volume is to provide an overview of these structures and developments and to show how their study can yield a more nuanced understanding of the ancient world A Cultural History of the Senses in Antiquity presents essays on the following topics the social life of the senses urban sensations the senses in the marketplace the senses in religion the senses in philosophy and science medicine and the senses the senses in literature art and the senses and sensory media University of Michigan Official Publication University of Michigan,1993 Each number is the catalogue of a specific school or college of the University A Cultural History of Sport in Antiquity Paul Christesen,Charles H. Stocking,2022-08-31 A Cultural History of Sport in Antiquity covers the period 800 BCE to 600 CE From the founding of the Olympics and Rome s celebratory games sport permeated the cultural life of Greco Roman antiquity almost as it does our own Gymnasiums public baths monumental arenas and circuses for chariot racing were constructed and athletic contests proliferated Sports themed household objects were very popular whilst the exploits of individual athletes gladiators and charioteers were immortalized in poetry monuments and the mosaic floors of the wealthy This rich sporting culture attests to the importance of leisure among the middle and upper classes of the Greco Roman world but by 600 CE rising costs barbarian invasions and Christianity had swept it all away The 6 volume set of the Cultural History of Sport presents the first comprehensive history from classical antiquity to today covering all forms and aspects of sport and its ever changing social cultural political and economic context and impact The themes covered in each volume are the purpose of sport sporting time and sporting space products training and technology rules and order conflict and accommodation inclusion exclusion and segregation minds bodies and identities representation Paul Christesen is Professor at Dartmouth College USA Charles Stocking is Associate Professor at Western University Canada Volume 1 in the Cultural History of Sport set General Editors Wray Vamplew Mark Dyreson and John McClelland Catalogue Goucher College,1925
