EU Investor Protection Regulation and Liability for Investment Losses Marnix Wallinga,2020-10-30 This book examines the relationship between the EU investor protection regulations enshrined in MiFID and MiFID II and national contract and torts law It describes how the effect of the conduct of business rules as implemented in national financial supervision legislation in private law extends to the issue of enforcement and critically assesses this interaction from the perspective of EU law In particular the conclusions identified in the book will deepen readers understanding of the interplay between the conduct of business rules and private law norms governing a firm s liability to pay damages such as duty of care attributability of damage causation contributory negligence and limitation In turn the book identifies the subordination and the complementarity model to conceptualise the interaction between the conduct of business rules and private law norms Moreover the book challenges the view that civil courts are or should be forced to give private law effects to violation of the MiFID and MiFID II conduct of business rules in line with the subordination model Instead the complementarity model is advanced as the preferred approach to this interaction in view of what MiFID and MiFID II require from Member States in terms of their implementation as well as the desirability of each model This model presupposes that courts should consider the conduct of business rules when adjudicating individual disputes while preserving the autonomy of private law norms governing liability of investment firms towards clients Based on analysis of case law of courts in Germany the Netherlands and England Wales as well as scholarly literature the book also compares the available causes of action the conditions of liability and the obstacles investors face when claiming damages as well as how and the extent to which investors can benefit from the conduct of business rules in clearing these obstacles In so doing under the approach adopted by national courts to the interplay between the conduct of business rules of EU origin and private law the book shows how investors can benefit from the influence of these rules on private law norms In closing it demonstrates a hybridisation of private law remedies resulting from the accommodation of the conduct of business rules into the private law discourse according to the complementarity model illustrating how judicial enforcement through private law means may contribute to investor protection
