told him tales of big robberies and exciting adventures and the prizes of life seemed to him to lie along the path of crime There was no one to teach him what constitutes real success and he went in for crime with energy and enthusiasm

The Autobiography of a Thief, and Other Histories Charles Reade, 2015-07-06 Excerpt from The Autobiography of a Thief and Other Histories The Wandering Heir The readers of It is Never too Late to Mend may remember that in chap xxii the chaplain set the thief to write his life honestly He was not to whitewash and then gild himself nor yet to vent one long self deceiving howl of general and therefore sham penitence but he was to be with God's help his own historian and sober critic Accordingly Thomas Robinson wrote this autobiography in Jail and my readers may have noticed that at first I intended to print it with the novel It cost me a struggle to resign this intention for it was the central gem of my little coronet But the novel without the autobiography was five ordinary volumes by printers calculation and a story within a story is a frightful flaw in art Moreover I was attacking settled long standing prejudices Prejudice is a giant against whom Truth and Humanity need to be defended with great spirit and in some desperate cases with a tiger like ferocity A dur ane dur aiguillon But there must be some judgment too and take my word for it there always has been some judgment used wherever so hard a battle is won I feared then to multiply paradoxes and to draw once too often on the faith of the public as well as on its good heart I who carried no personal weight with me But I think my readers are now ripe for this strange but true story and I dedicate it in particular to such as will deign to accept this clue to my method in writing I feign probabilities I record improbabilities The former are conjectures the latter truths mixed they make a thing not so true as Gospel nor so false as History viz Fiction When I startle you most think twice before you disbelieve me

What able deceiver aims at shocking credulity Distrust rather my oily probabilities They should be true too if I could make them but I can t They are guesses You have seen Thomas Robinson alias Hie alias Ille alias Iste tinted in water colours by me now see him painted in oils by himself and retouched by Mr Eden About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
