Mary Berry: The Queen of British Baking - The Biography A.S. Dagnell, 2013-01-29 Mary Berry is one of Britain's most respected and well loved gurus of the kitchen The undisputed Queen of the Aga has been the focus of many television shows and regularly contributes her expertise on Woman's Hour The recent hit BBC show The Great British Bake Off has once again put Mary back into the limelight and has reignited a passion for baking across the nation Inspired by domestic science classes at school Mary took a catering course at her local college before gaining a qualification from the Cordon Bleu school in Paris After a stint working for the Electricity Board where she demonstrated to new owners of electric cookers how to operate them by cooking a Victoria sponge and then as editor for Housewife and Ideal

Home magazine Mary published her first cookbook The Hamlyn All Colour Cookbook in 1970 and hasn't looked back since. As well as cookery books Mary has collaborated with her daughter Annabel to produce their own range of dressings and sauces which are now sold worldwide. But her personal life has also been touched by tragedy as her son William was killed in a car accident at the age of just 19. With over 70 cookery books under her belt there is no doubt that Mary Berry is one of Britain's most successful cookery writers. Awarded the CBE in 2012 her gentle personality and classic family cooking style are a remarkable contrast to some of the more outspoken celebrity television chefs just one of the reasons why even after over forty years in the industry she is so well loved. This is her fascinating story Liverpool: A Memoir of Words Tony Crowley, 2023-09-15. Included in the TLS Books of the Year 2023. Written by an author brought up in working class Liverpool in the 1960s and 1970s Liverpool: A Memoir of Words is a work of creative non-fiction that combines the study of language in Liverpool with social history, the history of the English language and personal memoir. A beautifully written book based on a lifetime's academic research it explores the relationship between language and memory and demonstrates the ways in which words are enmeshed in history and history in words. Starting with A and weaving its way alphabetically to Z Cars the work illustrates the deep relationship that has been forged in the past two hundred years or so between a form of language, a place and a social identity. The account is funny, sad, full of surprises and always illuminating. It tells the real history of Scouse, details the multicultural complexity of Liverpool English, examines the common use of plazzymorphs and shows how Liverpudlian words exemplify standard processes of change and development. Neither a memoir, dictionary or history book, this work crosses different fields of knowledge in order to weave an engaging and fascinating story. It is a book that will educate and delight Liverpudlians, students of language and social historians alike. A Dictionary of the English Language ... Mainly Abridged from the Latest Edition of the Quarto Dictionary of Noah Webster Noah Webster, 1872 A History of British Baking Emma Kay, 2020-11-23. A cultural and social history of Britain's breads, cakes and pastries through the ages from the author of Dining with the Victorians. The Great British Baking Show and its spinoffs are a modern day phenomenon but the British of course have been baking for centuries and here for the first time is a comprehensive account of how Britain's relationship with this much-loved art has changed, evolved and progressed over time. Renowned food historian Emma Kay skillfully combines the related histories of Britain's economy, innovation, technology, health and cultural and social trends with the personal stories of many of the individuals involved with the whole process: the early pioneers, the recipe writers, the cooks, the entrepreneurs. From pies to puddings, medieval ovens to modern day mass consumption, the result is a deliciously fascinating read. The Index of Middle English Prose S. J. Ogilvie-Thomson, 2007. Intimate Eating Anita Mannur, 2022-01-04 In Intimate Eating Anita Mannur examines how notions of the culinary can create new forms of kinship intimacy and social and political belonging Drawing on critical ethnic studies and queer studies Mannur traces the ways in which people of color queer people and other marginalized subjects create and sustain this belonging through the formation of intimate eating publics These spaces whether established in online communities or through eating along in a restaurant blur the line between public and private In analyses of Julie Powell's Julie and Julia Nani Power's Ginger and Ganesh Ritesh Batra's film The Lunchbox Michael Rakowitz's performance art installation Enemy Kitchen and The Great British Bake Off Mannur focuses on how racialized South Asian and Arab brown bodies become visible in various intimate eating publics In this way the culinary becomes central to discourses of race and other social categories of difference By illuminating how cooking eating and distributing food shapes and sustains social worlds Mannur reconfigures how we think about networks of intimacy beyond the family heteronormativity and nation

Slow Scholarship Catherine E. Karkov, 2019 A powerful claim for the virtues of a more thoughtful and collegiate approach to the academy today This book offers a response to the culture of metrics mass digitisation and accountability as opposed to responsibility or citizenship that has developed in higher education world wide as exemplified by the UK's Research Excellence Framework exercise REF and the increasing bureaucracy that limits the time available for teaching research and even conversation and collaboration Ironically these are problems that will be solved only by academics finding the time to talk and to work together The essays collected here both critique the culture of speed in the neoliberal university and provide examples of what can be achieved by slowing down by reclaiming research and research priorities and by working collaboratively across the disciplines to improve conditions They are informed both by recent research in medieval studies and by the problematic culture of twenty first century higher education The contributions offer very personal approaches to the academic culture of the present moment Some tackle issues of academic freedom head on others more obliquely but they all have been written as declarations of the academic freedom that comes with slow thinking slow reading slow writing and slow looking and the demonstrations of its benefits CATHERINE E KARKOV is Professor and Chair of Art History at the University of Leeds Contributors Lara Eggleton Karen Jolly Chris Jones James Paz Andrew Prescott Heather Pulliam
