depicted how does it differ from that of other periods and how did readers of Victorian fiction respond to the secrecy they encountered These are some of the questions Leila May poses in her study of the dynamics of secrecy and disclosure in fiction from Queen Victoria's coronation to the century's end May argues that the works of writers such as Charlotte Brontë William Makepeace Thackeray Mary Elizabeth Braddon Edward Bulwer Lytton and Arthur Conan Doyle reflect a distinctly Victorian obsession with the veiling and unveiling of information She argues that there are two opposing vectors in Victorian culture concerning secrecy and subjectivity one presupposing a form of radical Cartesian selfhood always remaining a secret to other selves and another showing that nothing can be hidden from the trained eye May calls the relation between these clashing tendencies the dialectics of secrecy and disclosure May's theories of secrecy and disclosure are informed by the work of twentieth century social scientists She emphasizes Georg Simmel's thesis that sociality and subjectivity are impossible without secrecy and Erving Goffman's claim that sociality can be understood in terms of performativity the presentation of the self in everyday life and his revelation that performance always involves disguise hence secrecy May's study offers convincing evidence that secrecy and duplicity in contrast to the Victorian period's emphasis on honesty and earnestness emerged in response to the social pressures of class gender monarchy and empire and were key factors in producing both the subjectivity and the sociality that we now recognize as Victorian

Translating Fictional Dialogue for Children and Young People Martin B. Fischer, Maria Wirf Naro, 2012-09-01 Literary and multimodal texts for children and young people play an important role in their acquisition of language and literacy and they are a flourishing part of publishing and translating activities today This book brings together twenty one papers on the particular aspect of the translation of feigned orality As the link between the literary and the multimodal text fictional dialogue is the appropriate place for evoking orality lending authenticity and credibility to the narrated plot and giving a voice to fictitious characters This is illustrated with examples from narrative and dramatic texts as well as films cartoons and television series in their respective modes of mediation translating interpreting dubbing and subtitling The findings are of interest from the scholarly point of view of contrastive linguistics for the professional practice of translating interpreting dubbing and subtitling and in the educational context

Desire and Consent in Representations of Adolescent Sexuality with Adults Maureen Turim, Diane Waldman, 2023-10-02 This book presents an innovative comparative view of how the issue of adolescent sexuality and consent is differently treated in various media Analyzing teenage sexual encounters with adults across a variety of media including films television novels and podcasts the volume takes a positive stance on the expression of teenage sexuality while remaining sensitive to the power of adults to abuse and manipulate The anthology treats these representations as negotiations between conflicting forces desire sexual self knowledge unequal power and the law the latter both actual legal statutes and internalized law in the philosophical and psychoanalytic sense Questions of unequal power inherent in such relations are theorized The authors examine variations of this configuration of sexual relations between teenagers and adults from different perspectives to consider how various forms of expression rework it formally These essays are attuned to both nuances of presentation and contexts of reception and they consider how aesthetics play a role Contributing to the general debate about the ways that societies construct and regulate adolescent sexuality this book will be of great interest to scholars and students of media studies cultural studies film studies television studies sociology and gender studies SCIENCE OF READING - DR.
