Ian Ward, 2000 Where do power and authority come from and how do those who have it keep it What would be the impact of dissolution on the United Kingdom These are the key questions in this study of English constitutional history starting with the Tudor period and following the issues up to modern times Tracing a path from the Tudor constitutional ideal of the king in Parliament to the emergence of civil rights ideas the re invention of an imperial Britain Victoria as Gloriana and current debates around self determination Ward considers how the constitution has been imagined in literature as well as in historical narrative In doing so he makes it clear that Parliament and monarchy are themselves imagined and re imagined over time not as glosses on history but as the center of a narrative of the constitution He argues that ultimately all constitutions depend for their acceptance on their ability to reach the imagination rather than on the power of a legal code Who's who in America ,1950 The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record ,1930 Publishers' Circular ,1936 Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature ,1930 The Compact Edition of the Oxford English Dictionary Sir James Augustus Henry Murray, 1971 Micrographic reproduction of the 13 volume Oxford English dictionary published in 1933 Religious Books and Serials in Print, 1980-1981 ,1980 A New English Dictionary on Historical Principles James Augustus Henry Murray, Henry Bradley, Sir William Alexander Craigie, Charles Talbut Onions, 1888 Who's who in the West ,2001 The British Library General Catalogue of Printed Books, 1986 to 1987 British Library, 1988
