Shedlock, 1915 In spite of a strong taste on the part of children for what is ugly and brutal I am sure that we ought to eliminate this element as far as possible from the school stories especially among poor children Not because I think children should be protected from all knowledge of evil but because so much of this knowledge comes into their life outside school that we can well afford to ignore it during school hours The Art of Story-Telling Marie L.

The Art of the Story-Teller Marie L. Shedlock, 2016-09-05 The Art of the Story Teller by Marie L Shedlock Storytelling is the conveying of events in words images and sounds often by improvisation or embellishment Story telling is almost the oldest art in the world the first conscious form of literary communication In the East it still survives and it is not an uncommon thing to see a crowd at a street corner held by the simple narration of a story There are signs in the West of a growing interest in this ancient art and we may yet live to see the renaissance of the troubadours and the minstrels whose appeal will then rival that of the mob orator or itinerant politician One of the surest signs of a belief in the educational power of the story is its introduction into the curriculum of the training college and the classes of the elementary and secondary schools It is just at the time when the imagination is most keen the mind being unhampered by accumulation of facts that stories appeal most vividly and are retained for all time The Art of the Story-Teller Marie L. The art of the story-teller 3rd ed Marie L. SHEDLOCK, 1951 The Art of the Story-Teller (Classic Reprint) Marie L. Shedlock, 2017-11-22 Excerpt from The Art of the Story Teller The justification of the old fashioned moral was not artistic but didactic It embodied the determination of the story teller to see that his pupils got the full benefit of the lesson involved If the moral is to be cut out the story teller must be sure that the lesson is so clearly conveyed in the text that any further elaboration would be felt as an impertinent addition Whately assures us that men prefer metaphors to Similes because in the Simile the point is baldly stated whereas in the metaphor the reader or hearer has to be his own interpreter All education is in the last resort self education and Miss Shedlock sees to it that her stories compel her hearers to make the application she desires In two other points modern opinion is prepared to give our authoress rein where our forefathers would have been inclined to restrain her The sense of humour has come to its proper place in our school rooms pupils humour be it understood for there always was scope enough claimed for the humour of the teacher So with the imagination The time is past when this mode of being conscious was looked at askance in school Parents and teachers no longer speak contemptuously about the busy faculty and quote Genesis in its condemnation Miss Shedlock has been well advised to keep to her legitimate subject instead of wandering afield in a Teutonic excursion into the realms of folk lore What parents and teachers want is the story as here and now existing and an account of how best to manipulate it This want the book now before us admirably meets About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
