Construction, 1913 Lecithin Israel Hanin, 2013-11-11 Recently there has been tremendous scientific interest in the role of phospholipids and particularly phosphatidylcholine lecithin in a variety of biological processes These include the involvement of phosphatidylcholine in biological membranes as a component of plasma lipoprotein as a transporter of choline in the body and also as a reserve and possibly only source of unesterified choline Moreover numerous clinical studies have recently been conducted to evaluate the possible uses of externally supplied lecithin in the treatment of some intractable neuropsychiatric disorders e g tardive dyskinesia Alzheimer's disease etc and other conditions e g hypercholesterolemia Results to date are encouraging yet equivocal This is due in part to the fact that the field of phospholipid methodology is highly complex There is much confusion in the literature and many ambiguities still remain in the interpretation of experimental findings This is particularly so for phenomena involving phospholipid function in the central nervous system This book incorporates the proceedings of the Fourth International Colloquium on Lecithin which took place in Chicago Illinois USA on September 15-17 1986 The purpose of this colloquium was to review in a comprehensive manner basic principles as well as current information about the technology biochemistry physiology and therapeutic potential of lecithin Over 108 individuals from all over the world participated in the sessions The meeting was subdivided into oral presentations and panel discussions see Table of Contents It was sponsored and financed by the Lucas Meyer GmbH Hamburg for which the editors are most grateful Cerebral Ischemia and Dementia Alexander Hartmann, Wolfgang Kuschinsky, Siegfried Hoyer, 2012-12-06 In contrast to dementia of the Alzheimer type the subject of dementia subsequent to cerebral ischemia has been discussed rather rarely Now this book provides a summary of the brain morphology neurochemistry and clinical aspects of dementia subsequent to cerebral ischemia The contributions discuss the similarities and differences between the two predominant dementia types The broad range of aspects cover 1 the morphology and morphobiology of brain tissue during aging and under the two pathological conditions 2 the neuropathochemistry of post mortem brain tissue of patients as well as brain tissue from experimental animals 3 CSF changes during aging and in dementia states and 4 clinical research mainly using brain imaging techniques to differentiate between dementia types and to find a basis for rational therapeutic approaches
