There is a growing body of research on the effects of the environment on human health. This research has shown that the environment can have a significant impact on the health of individuals and communities. For example, exposure to air pollution can lead to respiratory problems, and exposure to water pollution can lead to gastrointestinal problems. In addition, the environment can also affect mental health, with studies showing that exposure to natural environments can reduce stress and improve mood. Therefore, it is important to consider the environment when developing public health interventions.

and the fact that the two groups showed no significant differences in the number of correct responses ($F(1, 10) = 0.00, p = 0.97$). The two groups also did not differ in the number of incorrect responses ($F(1, 10) = 0.00, p = 0.97$).
