Smart Goals For Art Teachers:

Building Shared Responsibility for Student Learning Anne Conzemius, Jan O'Neill, 2001 Who is responsible for student learning Walk into an effective school and ask this question of anyone a teacher a student the principal a parent volunteer a secretary and you ll get the same answer I am Shared responsibility is something school communities build from within It s what happens when all school people accept that what they do makes a difference in how all students learn when they have the knowledge they need to make informed decisions about the best way to promote learning and when they have the skills and opportunities to translate their ideas into effective action Anne Conzemius and Jan O Neill present a practical framework for building shared responsibility within schools and school systems They identify three critical components Focus The common vision mission values and expectations that provide clarity and lead to new levels of performance Reflection The commitment to test assumptions learn from data and adjust practices accordingly Collaboration The process of developing relationships where all work toward the same objectives and rely on each other to achieve their goals Building shared responsibility for student learning is an ongoing activity a journey and not a destination This research based resource provides a map in the form of effective structures systems processes and policies It explains how to set powerful goals and shares inspiring stories of educators who have embarked on this journey toward higher professional competency increased staff satisfaction rising test scores and improved student results profile starts with an overview of ICT in Education or smart education in the country and policies of ICT in Education or smart education Some key features of smart education in each country were discussed with examples of best practices The profile ends with a description of trends of smart education in the country Based on the information above the final chapter presents an analysis among the eleven countries with six major features they presented and concluded the book with suggestions on advancing smart education by three points Teach Smart P J Caposey,Todd Whitaker,2013-12-17

Transform your classroom from teacher centered to learner centered This book shows you how with eleven easy to implement strategies you can use immediately to put students at the center Get your students geared up for success and high achievement with great ideas for providing a roadmap giving the work back differentiating daily instruction communicating for your audience not to your audience giving students choices planning intentional engagement asking better questions and so much more For each strategy you get a clear example of what it looks like in action as well as a breakdown of how to make it work in your classroom Why Art Cannot Be Taught James Elkins,2001-05-17

He also addresses the phenomenon of art critiques as a microcosm for teaching art as a whole and dissects real life critiques highlighting presuppositions and dynamics that make them confusing and suggesting ways to make them more helpful Elkins s no nonsense approach clears away the assumptions about art instruction that are not borne out by classroom practice For example he notes that despite much talk about instilling visual acuity and teaching technique in practice neither teachers nor students behave as if those were their principal goals He addresses the absurdity of pretending that sexual issues are absent from life drawing classes and questions the practice of holding up great masters and masterpieces as models for students capable of producing only mediocre art He also discusses types of art including art that takes time to complete and art that isn t serious that cannot be learned in studio art classes The Power of SMART Goals Anne Conzemius,Jan O'Neill,2009-04-01

Help staff focus on results and implement SMART Strategic and specific Measurable Attainable Results based and Time bound goals to transform your school into a place where every student meets or exceeds standards The authors present four success stories from real SMART schools and several frameworks for adult and student goal setting that lead to real results A Guide to Art Smart, Indiana Susan O.
