Nigel West,1986 The Process of Research in Psychology Dawn M. McBride,2019-01-02 The Process of Research in Psychology employs the pedagogical approach of spaced repetition to present a student friendly introduction to conducting research in psychology Drawing on more than 17 years of teaching experience best selling author Dawn M McBride covers topics with step by step explanations to help students understand the full process of designing conducting and presenting a research study Early chapters introduce important concepts for developing research ideas subject sampling ethics and data collection more detailed coverage of these topics is included in More About chapters to provide instructors with flexibility in their teaching Concepts and skills relevant to more than one stage of the research process are covered in multiple contexts providing repeated exposure to the topics students often struggle with but that are the most important in gaining research skills Controversies in Critical Criminology Martin Schwartz,Suzanne E. Hatty,2014-09-25 These original essays introduce students to the complex and influential field of critical criminology It presents many of the theories of critical criminology Marxist Feminist Left Realist Postmodern Constitutive Peacemaking and Restorative Justice and explores how despite their distinctions each theory is rooted in radical criminology and all are critical of mainstream criminology

Geneva's Use of Lies, Deceit, and Subterfuge, 1536-1563 Jon Balserak,2024-09-17 This study examines the ethical character of John Calvin and his Genevan colleagues evangelizing of France It reveals that Calvin s plans for proselytizing his homeland involved lying deception and obfuscation which were employed as a means of evading detection by the French authorities Balserak considers important questions about the relationship between godliness and cunning about Calvin s manufacturing of his image and about the lengths to which he and his colleagues went to spread their gospel Faking It! ,2022-12-28 Faking It collects eleven chapters which explore the question of forgery from different disciplinary angles literary historical and art historical contributions share space with discussions of jewels architecture and coinage The various case studies take as their focus developments in Renaissance Italy and early modern England as well as in France Germany Malta Denmark Sweden Iceland Russia and Australia While each chapter contributes to a better understanding of the local context of cultural production together they suggest new answers to how we can understand forgery The concept of performance allows us to see beyond normative approaches and gain insight into some of the ambiguities concerning the nature of forgery Contributors to this volume Brian J Boeck Federica Boldrini Patricia Pires Boulhosa Laurent Curelly Helen Hughes Jacqueline Hylkema Philip Lavender Lorenzo Paoli Ingrid Rowland Camilla Russo and Ksenija Tschetschik Hammerl

Introduction to Criminology David Kauzlarich,Hugh D. Barlow,2009-03-16 The ninth edition of Introduction to Criminology provides a comprehensive introduction to the study of lawmaking lawbreaking and reactions to crime Both classic and contemporary theories of the causes of crime are discussed and critiqued Special attention is given to critical theories of crime and to general theories The latest crime statistics research and theorizing are fully integrated throughout the text and the innovative epilogue provides students with the tools to actually apply criminological theory to real life events New to this edition Thoroughly updated throughout including statistics studies and theories in criminology The discussions of drugs prostitution and organized crime are now together in one chapter chapter 7 New chapters have been added on critical theories chapter 14 and biological psychological and evolutionary explanations of crime chapter 11 More illustrations and examples of crime from popular culture have been added throughout the text in an effort to help students make stronger intellectual connections to the material A new epilogue has been added that will help students think through common criminological issues and questions they are likely to encounter in everyday conversation Teaching Visual Methods in the Social Sciences Sal Watt,Caroline Wakefield,2017-05-08 Teaching Visual Methods in the Social Sciences presents a practical and theoretical framework for those wanting to introduce visual methods into their curricula Drawing on the expertise of contributors from across the social sciences the book provides a comprehensive introduction to visual methodology learning and teaching theory and the ethical considerations involved Divided into three parts the book begins with an overview of how visual methods have been used in academic research and how this can be applied to teaching and pedagogy It then goes on to introduce different methods including photography film and drawing describing how they can be used in various locations Finally the book pulls everything together advocating the wider use of teaching visual methods in further and higher education curricula across the social science subjects The book features a plethora of examples as well as practical resources for FE and HE teachers making it an essential companion for anyone interested in utilising visual methods in their teaching

The Quest for Responsibility M. A. P. Bovens, 1998-03-12

The search for responsibility in complex organisations often seems an impossible undertaking. Adopting a multidisciplinary approach combining law, social science, ethics and organisational design, Mark Bovens analyses the reasons for this and offers possible solutions. He begins by examining the problem of many hands because so many people contribute in so many different ways it is very difficult to determine who is accountable for organisational behaviour. Four possible solutions: corporate, hierarchical, collective and individual accountability are analysed from normative, empirical and practical perspectives. Bovens argues that individual accountability is the most promising solution but only if individuals have the chance to behave responsibly. The book then explores the implications of this approach. What does it mean to be a responsible employee or official? When is it legitimate to disobey the orders of superiors? What institutional designs might be most appropriate?
