The Old Man And Me:

The Old Man's Boy Grows Older Robert Ruark, 1993-10-15 A young man recalls fond memories of his grandfather and the wilderness lessons he taught which serve to guide him when he leaves North Carolina to roam the world beyond Me, the Old Man Bill Reed, 2015-03-03 I not only write books I am this book The actual person or persons After a flash flood in 1965 an elderly man became trapped down a Sydney parkland storm drain Children discovered him but did not tell their parents Instead they fed him a biscuit and a little water once a day for three weeks When he was finally rescued the flesh on his legs had become putrescent He could not remember how long he had been down there Bill Reed extends this situation to explore the interaction of innocence and inhumanity that is so prevalent in these days of random violence Here the old man like so many others has come to Australia with all the hopes of regeneration But the sun has not shone on him very much and his brother and sister have disowned him He has had to live in sordid hostels and to endure the barbs of a society that pays respect only to the fittest As his minds drifts the old man dreams he is back home in Belfast He has got beyond the smell of his own rotting flesh and the fleas and rats He no longer feels the cold or works up the desperation to plead with the children to get help He floats mentally waiting for the final water rush of the coming last storm And as he does so the author uses himself as a character to the story as one of the brutalisers the sheer fact of writing about the old man in this terrible state possibly morally aligning him to the teasing torturing children Using Edward Nugent's real writings to give an authentic voice to the old man doesn't help his frame of mind either Bill Reed has been involved in writing and publishing for most of his life in Australia Britain Canada and the Subcontinent He has had nine plays professionally staged and has written thirteen novels including 1001 Lankan Nights books 1 and 2 He has won national awards in playwriting short story and novel categories He now resides in Sri Lanka Edward Nugent was born in Belfast in 1900 and migrated to Australia after WW2 eventually living in a Salvation Army home in Adelaide where his major preoccupations were his manual typewriter and his old fiddle He tragically died in a room fire in 1979 two days after receiving an advanced copy of this book The quote above was his reaction The Old Man Demer Hayes, 2004-12 He sits alone in the ancient tavern haggard despondent blind to the nervous glances of the patrons who drift in from the unpleasant night Who is he this stranger in their midst Why is he there Speculation swirls whispers of a life at sea and promises to an old shipmate but only the pretty young barmaid cares enough to draw out the truth What she learns is a story of naked ambition and revenge opportunities lost and the depths of grief but above all the power of transcendent love In the spring of 1812 as the prospect of war with England grips the new nation a young printer falls in love with a woman trapped in a loveless marriage to one of the most ambitious politicians in the state Searching for happiness through the maze of colonial mores and current events they find their lives swept up by the tide of history In the end love proves it can be found in the most unexpected places and unexpected ways The Old Man from Leftfield Neil McKee, 2014-10-17 When I was a kid in the late 1950s while I was a student at Paoli Elementary School I read
