Historical Archaeology of Early Modern Colonialism in Asia-Pacific Maria Cruz Berrocal, Cheng-hwa Tsang, 2017-12-19 The essential source for scholarly reassessment of the Asia Pacific region s diverse and significant archaeology and history James P Delgado coauthor of The Maritime Landscape of the Isthmus of Panama Underpins a nuanced picture of Asia Pacific that shows how the activities of the Chinese and Japanese in East Asia the spread of Islam from South Asia and the efforts of the Iberians and especially the Spanish from southern Europe ushered in a world of complex interaction and rapid and often profound change in local regional and wider cultural patterns Ian Lilley editor of Archaeology of Oceania Australia and the Pacific Islands The history of Asia Pacific since 1500 has traditionally been told with Europe as the main player ushering in a globalized capitalist world But these volumes help decentralize that global history revealing that preexisting trade networks and local authorities influenced the region before and long after Europeans arrived In the volume The Southwest Pacific and Oceanian Regions case studies from Alofi Vanuatu the Marianas Hawaii Guam and Taiwan compare the development of colonialism across different islands Contributors discuss human settlement before the arrival of Dutch French British and Spanish explorers tracing major exchange routes that were active as early as the tenth century They highlight rarely examined sixteenth and seventeenth century encounters between indigenous populations and Europeans and draw attention to how cross cultural interaction impacted the local peoples of Oceania The volume The Asia Pacific Region looks at colonialism in the Philippines China Japan and Vietnam emphasizing the robust trans regional networks that existed before European contact Southeast Asia had long been influenced by Buddhist Hindu and Muslim traders in ways that helped build the region s ethnic and political divisions Essays show the complexity and significance of maritime trade during European colonization by investigating galleon wrecks in Manila Japan s porcelain exports and Spanish coins discovered off China s coast Packed with archaeological and historical evidence from both land and underwater sites impressive in geographical scope and featuring perspectives of scholars from many different countries and traditions these volumes illuminate the often misunderstood nature of early colonialism in Asia Pacific

Stories in Stone: Memorialization, the Creation of History and the Role of Preservation Emily Williams, 2020-10-06 In 1866 Alexander Dunlop a free black living in Williamsburg Virginia did three unusual things He had an audience with the President of the United States testified in front of the Joint Congressional Committee on Reconstruction and he purchased a tombstone for his wife Lucy Ann Dunlop Purchases of this sort were rarities among Virginia s free black community and this particular gravestone is made more significant by Dunlop s choice of words his political advocacy and the racialized rhetoric of the period Carved by a pair of Richmond based carvers who like many other Southern monument makers contributed to celebrating and mythologizing the Lost Cause in the wake of the Civil War Lucy Ann s tombstone is a powerful statement of Dunlop s belief in the worth of all men and his hopes for the future Buried in 1925 by the white members of a church congregation and again in the 1960s by the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation the tombstone was excavated in 2003 Analysis conservation and long term interpretation were undertaken by the Foundation in partnership with the community of the First Baptist Church a historically black church within which Alexander Dunlop was a leader Stories in Stone Memorialization the Creation of History and the Role of Preservation examines the story of the tombstone through a blend of object biography and micro historical approaches and contrasts it with other memory projects like the remembrance of the Civil War dead Data from a regional survey of nineteenth century cemeteries historical accounts literary sources and the visual arts are woven together to explore the agentive relationships between monuments their commissioners their creators and their viewers and the ways in which memory is created and contested and how this impacts the history we learn and preserve

Mark W Hoock Erika Hartley Terrance J Martin Eric Teixeira Mendes Michael S Nassaney Susan K Reichert The Archaeology of the Royal Flying Corps Melanie Winterton, 2022-10-07 Winterton's book is a good introductory effort on the haptic environment of World War I aviators and their personal artifacts The Journal of the Air Force Historical Foundation Archaeology provides a fascinating insight into the lives of the aviators of the First World War Their descriptions of the sensation of flying in the open cockpits of the primitive warplanes of the day and the artifacts that have survived from these first years of aerial combat give us a powerful sense of what their wartime service was like and chart the beginning of our modern understanding of aviation But the subject hasn't been explored in any depth before which is why Melanie Winterton's pioneering book is so timely Hers is the first study of the trench art souvenirs and lucky mascots associated with the Royal Flying Corps which in an original way tell us so much about the experience of flying on the Western Front a century ago Extensive quotations from the memoirs of these early airmen are combined with an analysis of the artifacts themselves They convey something of the fear and anxiety the airmen had to grapple with on a daily basis and bring out the full significance of the poignant souvenirs they left behind Pieces of crashed aeroplane wooden propellers strips of linen fragments of metal were recycled and circulated during the war and afterwards became the focus of attention in the domestic home As Melanie Winterton demonstrates these items connected the living with the deceased which is why they are so strongly evocative even today Fashioning the Self: Identity and Style in British Culture Emily Priscott, 2023-06-06 Fashioning the Self Identity and Style in British Culture offers an eclectic approach to contemporary fashion studies Taking a broad definition of British culture this collection of essays explores the significance of style to issues such as colonialism race gender and class embracing topics as diverse as eighteenth century portraiture literary dress culture and Edwardian working class glamour Examining the emblematic power of garments themselves and the context in which they are styled this work interrogates the ways that personal style can itself decontextualize garments to radically reframe their meanings Using an intentionally eclectic range of subjects from an interdisciplinary perspective this collection builds on the work of theorists such as Aileen Ribeiro Vika Martina Plock Cheryl Buckley and Hilary Fawcett to examine the social significance of personal style while also highlighting the diversity of British culture itself Material Worlds Barbara J. Heath, Eleanor E. Breen, Lori A. Lee, 2017-02-17 Material Worlds examines consumption from an archaeological perspective broadly exploring the intersection of social relations and objects through the processes of production distribution use reuse and discard Interrogating individual objects as well as considering the contexts in which acts of consumption take place a range of case studies present the intertwined issues of power inequality identity and community as mediated through choice access and use of the diversity of mass produced goods Key themes of this innovative volume include the relationship between colonial political and economic structures and the practices of consumption the use of consumer goods in the construction and negotiation of identity and the dialectic between strategies of consumption and individual or community choices Situating studies of consumerism within the field of historical archaeology this exciting collection reflects on the interrelationship between the material and ideological aspects of culture With a focus on North America from the seventeenth through the early twentieth centuries Material Worlds is an important examination of consumption which will appeal to scholars with interests in colonialism gender and race as well as those engaged with the material culture of the emergent modern world

The Historical Archaeology of Shadow and Intimate Economies James A. Nyman, Kevin R. Fogle, Mary C. Beaudry, 2019-06-03 This volume develops the concept of intimate economies by showing how contemporary historical archaeologists apply the perspective to their research The chapters in this volume address intimate economies across multiple historical contexts and through various case studies provide the reader with a rich evocative exploration of a concept of topical importance to current concerns and issues

Women in Antiquity Stephanie Lynn Budin, Jean Macintosh Turfa, 2016-08-12 This volume gathers brand new essays from some of the most respected scholars of ancient history archaeology and physical anthropology to create an engaging overview of the lives of women in antiquity The book is divided into ten sections nine focusing on a particular area and also includes almost 200 images maps and charts The sections cover Mesopotamia Egypt Anatolia Cyprus the Levant the Aegean Italy and Western Europe and include many lesser known cultures such as the Celts Iberia Carthage the Black Sea region and Scandinavia Women's experiences are explored from ordinary daily life to religious ritual and practice to motherhood childbirth sex and building a career Forensic evidence is also treated for the actual bodies of ancient women Women in Antiquity is edited by two experts in the field and is an invaluable resource to students of the ancient world gender studies and women's roles throughout history

The Plurality of Power Sarah Cowie, 2011-02-15 How do people experience power within capitalist societies Research presented here explicitly addresses the notion of pluralistic power which encompasses both productive and oppressive forms of power and acknowledges that nuanced and multifaceted power relations can exist in combination with binary dynamics such as domination and resistance This volume addresses growing interests in linking past and present power relationships engendered by capitalism and in conducting historical archaeology as anthropology The Plurality of Power Industrial Capitalism and the Nineteenth Century Company Town of Fayette Michigan explores the subtle distribution of power within American industrial capitalism through a case study of a company town Issues surrounding power and agency are explored in regard to three heuristic categories of power In the first category the company imposed a system of structural class based power that is most visible in hierarchical differences in pay and housing as well as consumer behavior A second category addresses disciplinary activities surrounding health and the human body as observed in the built environment medical artifacts disposal patterns of industrial waste incidence of intestinal parasites and unequal access to healthcare The third ensemble of power relations is heterarchical and entwined with non economic capital social symbolic and cultural Individuals and groups drew upon different forms of capital to bolster social status and express identity both within and apart from the corporate hierarchy The goal in combining these diverse ideas is to explore the plurality of power relationships in past industrial contexts and to assert their relevance in the anthropology of capitalism

The Routledge Handbook of Gender Archaeology Marianne Moen,Unn Pedersen,2024-12-02 This volume presents a comprehensive overview of gender archaeology both theory and practice and contributes a substantial and definitive reference work by bringing together state of the art research theoretical overviews and the latest debates in the field Responding to the shifts in the theoretical landscape and the societal and political frameworks within which we produce our knowledge chapters create both a solid theoretical baseline which help readers grasp the significance of gender in archaeology as well as offer perspectives on how to engender produced knowledge about the past In line with recent focus on the shortcomings of gender and archaeological representation chapters also detangle academic discourse and popular representations in order to present novel ways of successfully negotiating the pitfalls of gendered ideas about past behaviours By encouraging novel ways of integrating theoretical perspectives with scrutiny of gender stereotypes original empirical examinations of identity markers and behaviours and re examinations of static representations of identities through new lenses such as intersectional perspectives personhood and materiality debates the volume is theoretically rich and will simultaneously provide a necessary benchmark for future archaeological discourses Finally it will incorporate perspectives from researchers with diverse backgrounds and viewpoints to provide a truly comprehensive overview It will not shy away from engaging with politically contentious issues surrounding knowledge production but will include perspectives from researchers whose focus is less on feminist critiques and more on gender and identities Thus the volume bridges the two most prominent directions currently discernible within the focus area namely feminist re examinations on the one hand and research focused more on bodily practice and gendered experiences on the other The Routledge Handbook of Gender Archaeology is an invaluable resource for students and researchers in gender archaeology as well as gender studies more widely

Memory, Place and Identity Danielle Drozdowski,Sarah De Nardi,Emma Waterton,2016-05-20 This book bridges theoretical gaps that exist between the meta concepts of memory place and identity by positioning its lens on the emplaced practices of commemoration and the remembrance of war and conflict This book examines how diverse publics relate to their wartime histories through engagements with everyday collective memories in differing places Specifically addressing questions of place making displacement and identity contributions shed new light on the processes of commemoration of war in everyday urban fa ades and within generations of families and national communities Contributions seek to clarify how we connect with memories and places of war and conflict The spatial and narrative manifestations of attempts to contextualise wartime memories of loss trauma conflict victory and suffering are refracted through the roles played by emotion and identity construction in the shaping of post war remembrances This book offers a multidisciplinary perspective with insights from history memory studies social psychology cultural and urban geography to contextualise memories of war and their use by national
