The New South Wales Medical Board receives numerous complaints from employers, insurers, the courts, etc regarding the quality, accuracy and truthfulness of sickness certificates. Doctors who deliberately issue a false, misleading or inaccurate certificate could face disciplinary action under the Medical Practice Act.

Doctors should consider the following points when a patient requests a sickness certificate.

2. GUIDELINES

2.1 The certificate should be legible, written on the doctor's letterhead and should not contain abbreviations or medical jargon.

2.2 The certificate should be based on facts known to the doctor. The certificate may include information provided by the patient but any medical statements must be based upon the doctor's own observations or must indicate the factual basis of those statements.

2.3 The certificate should:

- (a) indicate the date on which the examination took place
- (b) indicate the degree of incapacity of the patient (refer section 6 below)
- (c) indicate the date on which the doctor considers the patient is likely to be able to return to work
- (d) be addressed to the party requiring the certificate as evidence of illness eg employer, insurer, magistrate
