"ECEG2016-Proceedings of 16th European Conference on e-Government ECEG 2016 " Mitja De Man,Tina Juki,2016-06-02 South Africa's Post-Apartheid Military Lindy Heinecken,2020-01-01 This timely book examines how the South African National Defence Force has adapted to the country's new security political and social environment since 1994 In South Africa's changed political state how has civilian control of the military been implemented and what does this mean for defence in a democracy This book presents an overview of the security environment how the mission focus of the military has changed and the implications for force procurement force preparation force employment and force sustainability The author addresses other issues such as the effect of integrating former revolutionary soldiers into a professional armed force the effect of affirmative action on meritocracy recruitment and retention military veterans looking at the difficulties they face in reintegrating back into society and finding gainful employment gender equality and mainstreaming the rise of military unions and why a confrontational instead of a more corporatist approach to labour relations has emerged HIV AIDS and the consequences this holds for the military in terms of its operational effectiveness In closing the author highlights key events that have caused the SANDF to become lost in transition and transformation spelling out some lessons learned The conclusions she draws are pertinent for the future of defence security and civil military relations of countries around the world Military Assistance on Request and the Use of Force Erika De Wet,2020-03-26 In countries such as Syria Iraq South Sudan and Yemen internationally recognized governments embroiled in protracted armed conflicts and with very little control over their territory have requested direct military assistance from other states These requests are often accepted by the other states despite the circumvention of the United Nations Security Council and extensive violation of international humanitarian law and human rights In this book Erika De Wet examines the authority entitled to extend a request for or consent to direct military assistance as well as the type of situations during which such assistance may be requested notably whether it may be requested during a civil war Ultimately De Wet addresses the question of if and to what extent the proliferation of military assistance on the request of a recognized government is changing the rules in international law applying to the use of force The Imperial Army Project Douglas Edward Delaney,2017 How did British authorities manage to secure the commitment of large dominion and Indian armies that could plan fight shoot communicate and sustain themselves in concert with the British Army and with each other during the era of the two world wars What did the British want from the dominion and Indian armies and how did they go about trying to get it Douglas E Delaney seeks to answer these questions to understand whether the imperial army project was successful Answering these questions requires a long term perspective one that begins with efforts to fix the armies of the British Empire in the aftermath of their desultory performance in South Africa 1899 1903 and follows through to the high point of imperial military cooperation during the Second World War Based on multi archival research conducted in six different countries on four continents Delaney argues that the military compatibility of the British Empire armies was the product of a deliberate and enduring imperial army project one that aimed at standardizing and piecing together the armies of the empire while at the same time accommodating the burgeoning autonomy of the dominions and even India At its core this book is really about how a military coalition worked
