Taylor, 2025-04-04 The new and updated eighth edition of Political Geography once again shows itself fit to tackle a frequently and rapidly changing geopolitical landscape It retains the intellectual clarity rigour and vision of previous editions based upon its world systems approach and is complemented by the perspective of feminist geography The book successfully integrates the complexity of individuals with the complexity of the world economy by merging the compatible but different research agendas of the co authors This edition explores political geography within the context of US China competition Russia's war with Ukraine global climate change new technologies and challenges to democracy It advances the discussion from the previous editions on the dynamics of the capitalist world economy and the constant tension between the global scale of economic processes and the territorialization of politics in the current context of geopolitical change The chapters have been updated with new examples new sections on global climate change populism and the growing threat of global war The book offers a framework to help students make their own judgements of how we got where we are today and what may or should be done about it Political Geography remains a core text for students of political geography geopolitics international relations and political science as well as more broadly across human geography and the social sciences Getting Real

About Race Stephanie M. McClure, Cherise A. Harris, 2017-08-24 Getting Real About Race is an edited collection of short essays that address the most common stereotypes and misconceptions about race held by students and by many in the United States in general At the Threshold of Liberty Tamika Y. Nunley, 2021-01-29 The capital city of a nation founded on the premise of liberty nineteenth century Washington D C was both an entrep t of urban slavery and the target of abolitionist ferment The growing slave trade and the enactment of Black codes placed the city's Black women within the rigid confines of a social hierarchy ordered by race and gender At the Threshold of Liberty reveals how these women enslaved fugitive and free imagined new identities and lives beyond the oppressive restrictions intended to prevent them from ever experiencing liberty self respect and power Consulting newspapers government documents letters abolitionist records legislation and memoirs Tamika Y Nunley traces how Black women navigated social and legal proscriptions to develop their own ideas about liberty as they escaped from slavery initiated freedom suits created entrepreneurial economies pursued education and participated in political work In telling these stories Nunley places Black women at the vanguard of the history of Washington D C and the momentous transformations of nineteenth century America Learning Disobedience Amber Murrey, Prof.

Patricia Daley, 2023-08-20 This is a must read for current struggles for dignity and pluriversal decolonized solidarity The authors invite us to abolish development not as simple rejection but as a life affirming pathway into liberation and freedom beyond coloniality Rosalba Icaza Professor Erasmus University of Rotterdam Murrey and Daley take no prisoners in their sharp decolonial analysis Sabelo J Ndlovu Gatsheni author of Beyond the Coloniality of Internationalism The book we've all been waiting for to divest from development studies It engages the abolitionist imperative as intelligible and doable as a labour of love solidarity and abundance Olivia Umurerwa Rutazibwa Assistant Professor London School of Economics and Political Science This is a book about teaching with disobedient pedagogies from the heart of empire The authors show how educators activists and students are cultivating anti racist decolonial practices leading with a radical call to eradicate development studies and counterbalancing this with new projects to decolonize development particularly in African geographies Building on the works of other decolonial trailblazers the authors show how colonial legacies continue to shape the ways in which land well being progress and development are conceived of and practiced How do we through our classroom and activist practices work collaboratively to create the radical imaginaries and practical scaffolding we need for decolonizing development Being intentionally disobedient in the classroom is central to decolonizing development studies Amber Murrey is an Associate Professor at the University of Oxford and a Fellow at Mansfield College Oxford Amber is the editor of A Certain Amount of Madness The Life Politics and Legacies of Thomas Sankara Patricia Daley is Professor of the Human Geography of Africa and The Helen Morag Fellow in Geography at Jesus College Oxford She co edited with Elena Fiddian Qasmiyeh The Routledge Handbook on South South Relations A Promising Problem Carlos Kevin

Blanton, 2016-03-08 Chicana o history has reached an intriguing juncture While academic and intellectual studies are embracing new highly nuanced perspectives on race class gender education identity and community the field itself continues to be viewed as a battleground subject to attacks from outside academia by those who claim that the discipline promotes racial hatred and anti Americanism Against a backdrop of deportations and voter suppression targeting Latinos A Promising Problem presents the optimistic voices of scholars who call for sophisticated solutions while embracing transnationalism and the reality of multiple overlapping identities Showcasing a variety of new directions this anthology spans topics such as growth and reassessment in Chicana o history manifested in a disruption of nationalism and geographic essentialism the impact of legal history interracial relations and the experiences of Latino subpopulations in the US South race and the politics of religious history transborder feminism in the early twentieth century and aspirations for a field that increasingly demonstrates the relational dynamics of cultural production As they reflect on the state of their field the contributors offer significant insights into sociology psychology anthropology political science education and literature while tracing the history of activism throughout the last century and debating the very concepts of Chicano and Chicano history Although the political landscape is fraught with closed off rhetoric A Promising Problem encourages diversity of thought and opens the possibilities

Senie, 2021-03-11 Monuments around the world have become the focus of intense and sustained discussions activism vandalism and removal Since the convulsive events of 2015 and 2017 during which white supremacists committed violence in the shadow of Confederate symbols and the 2020 nationwide protests against racism and police brutality protesters and politicians in the United States have removed Confederate monuments as well as monuments to historical figures like Christopher Columbus and Dr J Marion Sims questioning their legitimacy as present day heroes that their place in the public sphere reinforces The essays included in this anthology offer guidelines and case studies tailored for students and teachers to demonstrate how monuments can be used to deepen civic and historical engagement and social dialogue Essays analyze specific controversies throughout North America with various outcomes as well as examples of monuments that convey outdated or unwelcome value systems without prompting debate Laying Claim Patricia G. Davis, 2016-08-15 Laying Claim African American Cultural Memory and Southern Identity explores the practices and cultural institutions that define and sustain African American southernness demonstrating that southern identity is more expansive than traditional narratives that center on white culture Critical Theories in Dark Tourism Nitasha Sharma, Annaclaudia Martini, Dallen J. Timothy, 2024-12-02 This book facilitates a critical investigation of gaps in theorizing and framing dark tourism by navigating through some onto epistemological issues theoretical entanglements future possibilities and the application of critical theoretical perspectives related to affect and emotions human animal studies postcolonialism feminism trauma studies posthumanism power and identity In doing so it advances the need to connect critical theory pragmatism and contemporary issues of social and global relevance Given the growing body of critical research within tourism studies dark tourism has somewhat lagged behind For example critical tourism researchers have been examining postcolonialism for two decades but dark tourism research has only sporadically engaged with this topic Similarly the issue of gender has been curiously neglected within dark tourism In addition dark tourism research has tended to shy away from the big challenges facing contemporary societies Through its engagement with a range of critical theories this volume not only addresses gaps in the existing dark tourism literature but also moves the debate forward in exciting new directions This volume is well placed to demonstrate to other disciplines and fields that dark tourism research can be critical theoretically grounded and transformative Duncan Light Styling Masculinity Kristen Barber,2016-08-24 The twenty first century has seen the emergence of a new style of man the metrosexual Overwhelmingly straight white and wealthy these impeccably coiffed urban professionals spend big money on everything from facials to pedicures all part of a multi billion dollar male grooming industry Yet as this innovative study reveals even as the industry encourages men to invest more in their appearance it still relies on women to do much of the work Styling Masculinity investigates how men s beauty salons have persuaded their clientele to regard them as masculine spaces To answer this question sociologist Kristen Barber goes inside Adonis and The Executive two upscale men s salons in Southern California Conducting detailed observations and extensive interviews with both customers and employees she shows how female salon workers not only perform the physical labor of snipping tweezing waxing and exfoliating but also perform the emotional labor of pampering their clients and pumping up their masculine egos Letting salon employees tell their own stories Barber not only documents occasions when these workers are objectified and demeaned but also explores how their jobs allow for creativity and confer a degree of professional dignity In the process she traces the vast network of economic and social relations that undergird the burgeoning male beauty industry

Transitional Justice and the Politics of Inscription Joseph Robinson,2017-08-04 Taking Northern Ireland as its primary case study this book applies the burgeoning literature in memory studies to the primary question of transitional justice how shall societies and individuals reckon with a traumatic past Joseph Robinson argues that without understanding how memory shapes moulds and frames narratives of the past in the minds of communities and individuals theorists and practitioners may not be able to fully appreciate the complex emotive realities of transitional political landscapes Drawing on interviews with what the author terms memory curators coupled with a robust analysis of secondary literature from a range of transitional cases the book analyses how the bodies of the dead the injured and the traumatised are written into or written out of transitional justice The author argues that scholars cannot appreciate the dynamism of transitional memory space unless they first engage with the often silenced or marginalised voices whose memories remain trapped behind the antagonistic politics of fear and division Ultimately challenging the imperative of national reconciliation the author argues for a politics of public memory that incubates at multiple nodes of social production and can facilitate a vibrant democratic debate over the ways in which a traumatic past can or should be remembered Integration and Receptivity in Immigrant Gateway Metro Regions in the United States Paul N. McDaniel,Darlene Xiomara Rodriguez,2024-07-08 Despite the velocity and scale of the cumulative changes of immigrant integration and receptivity infrastructures in fast growing regions of the United States less research has focused on the new and evolving experiences in these regions in recent years Editors Paul N McDaniel and Darlene Xiomara Rodriguez and the contributors in Integration and Receptivity in Immigrant Gateway Metro Regions in the United States fill this gap through case studies of different types of immigrant gateway metro areas They provide insight into how immigrant settlement integration and receptivity processes and practices within each metro area have continued to evolve beyond the nascent experiences documented in the early 2000s This interdisciplinary volume examines ongoing processes in not only well established immigrant gateways but also in previously overlooked regions This book is a resource for researchers students and practitioners to contextualize the ongoing changes in new destination metropolitan regions in the United States and to learn from the challenges opportunities and best practices emerging from different metropolitan regional contexts
