including but not limited to regulating hormone dependent processes repressing growth related genes and eliciting the antioxidant response system Worldwide lands under irrigation practices are experiencing higher salt content impacting plant performance and causing significant drops in yields Therefore understanding how cultivars and plants respond to adverse environments such as salt excess in soils as well as investigating novel approaches to boost stressed plant physiological performance are vital components that need to be addressed if we are to achieve food security Multiple genes involved in the ABA signaling pathways are known to respond and start plant adaptive responses when facing salt stress In addition several transcription factors such as the phytochromes and zinc finger proteins play roles in regulating the morphological responses of plants under stress Antioxidant enzymes are also upregulated in response to higher content of salt Recently nanobiotechnological approaches aimed at delivering cargoes such as micronutrients or chemicals in a cell specific manner are a promising alternative to aid plants in combating stress Similarly using nanofertilizers shows favorable effects in plants under hostile environments CRISPR CAS is an emerging powerful and feasible tool to modify genes and be applied to plants to make them more tolerant to salt in excess
