of Evolution explores many neglected evolutionary questions Some are remarkably general Why for example are convergences such as parasitism carnivory and nitrogen fixation in plants concentrated in particular taxonomic hot spots Why do certain groups have a particular propensity to evolve toward particular states Some questions lead to unexpected evolutionary insights If bees sleep as they do do they dream Why is that insect copulating with an orchid Why have sponges evolved a system of fiber optics What do mantis shrimps and submarines have in common If dinosaurs had not gone extinct what would have happened next Will a saber toothed cat ever re evolve Cona Morris observes Even amongst the mammals let alone the entire tree of life humans represent one minute twig of a vast and largely fossilized arborescence Every living species is a linear descendant of an immense string of now vanished ancestors but evolution itself is the very reverse of linear Rather it is endlessly exploratory probing the vast spaces of biological hyperspace Indeed this book is a celebration of how our world is and was populated by a riot of forms a coruscating tapestry of life The Runes of Evolution is the most definitive synthesis of evolutionary convergence to be published to date

Textual Transmission in Byzantium Juan Signes Codoñer, Inmaculada Pérez Martín, 2014 A workshop was held in February 2012 in Madrid to stimulate a debate on textual criticism centred on the analysis of Byzantine texts and their modes of publication rewriting and diffusion The main aim was to provide future editors or scholars of the history of texts with a rich typology of concepts to guide their task such as interpolation paraphrasis metaphrasis quotation collection amplification or falsification among others but always taking into account that the principles upon which the discipline of textual criticism was founded needed to be reconsidered when dealing with the transmission of Byzantine texts The present book brings together the different case studies produced by the participants of the workshop into a coherent whole and distributes them into five different sections according to their methodological approaches 1 Language and style 2 Virtual libraries and crossed readings 3 Philosophical treatises and collections 3 The sources of history 5 Law texts and their reception The results of the different approaches put forward by the contributors offer a broad palette of methodological strategies that are to a great extent complementary and will so we hope illuminate the task of the future editors with new reflections
