The following paragraph is an example of which organizational structure?

Charles Darwin, famous researcher and scientist, impacted our understanding of the natural world in one significant way. Darwin was born in 1809, but despite living in a time with less technical and scientific advances, he was able to observe his world and write on of the most influential scientific papers of his time. In 1831, Darwin set off on the adventure that would change everything. After boarding the HMS Beagle, Darwin sailed around the coast of South America. At each stop, Darwin collected and catalogued the various plants and species native to the land. While reviewing the specimens, he made the discovery that different animals' bodies change to adapt to the environment they lived in. After many years of research and theorizing, Darwin published the book On the Origin of Species in 1859. Because of his research, new light was shed on ev - correct answer
