Navigating the New Pedagogy Jeff Halstead, 2011-06-16 In the early 21st Century a new vision for classroom practice emerged that looks very different from the teaching that existed previously This new teaching is a synthesis of effective curriculum big ideas nurturing relationships differentiated instruction appropriate assessment teaching to standards use of technology and solid understanding of the content being taught Six core principles emerge from the new educational theory that have the power to define and organize this new vision for classroom practice and to transform teaching itself Navigating the New Pedagogy Six Principles that Transform Teaching provides this vital map of education s new landscape of the current best practices and philosophies Teachers administrators and education professors will find ideas that will help transform classrooms into positive productive learning environments Prentice Hall Chemistry, 2000 Prioritizing the Common Core Larry Ainsworth, 2013 The consensus among educators nationwide is that in depth instruction paired with focused assessment of essential concepts and skills are far more effective than superficially covering every concept and skill in the standards Educators are faced with the task of teaching all standards while meeting the extraordinary range of student learning needs Prioritizing the Common Core offers common sense solutions to the dilemmas teachers face today in implementing the new more rigorous national standards Chapters present a rationale for prioritizing the Common Core a step by step process for prioritizing standards in language arts and mathematics strategies for soliciting feedback and input from everyone in the district or school prior to the final determination of the Priority Standards and detailed summaries of the process schools in six different districts used to identify their Priority Standards with accompanying commentary by those who directed the work The TurnAround ToolKit Lynn Winters, Joan Herman, 2011 Lynn Winters s and Joan Herman s The Turnaround Toolkit is written for school leaders who are focused on transforming instruction and who may be working under significant time constraints to reverse declining student achievement or public perceptions of school failure Based on the evidence that simply implementing continuous improvement is not enough to close the achievement gap The Turnaround Toolkit provides a nine step formative evaluation program designed to achieve an immediate and consistent focus on improving instruction in order to bolster student achievement In a straightforward and accessible fashion Herman and Winters explain three overarching Turnaround Tasks that frame these steps and the necessary and sometimes drastic actions that must be taken by school leaders as they use data to strategically choose implement monitor and revise school interventions A dedicated online toolkit offers numerous worksheets and templates that support each stage of the process and help school leaders scaffold the work of educators to put an aggressive turnaround plan into action while a leadership guide at the end of the book provides guidance to turnaround teams and facilitators Leadership of Assessment, Inclusion, and Learning Shelleyann Scott, Donald E. Scott, Charles F. Webber, 2015-10-20 This book provides pragmatic strategies and models for student assessment and ameliorates the heightened sense of confusion that too many educators and leaders experience around the complexities associated with assessment. In particular, it offers guidance to school and district personnel charged with fair and appropriate assessment of students who represent a wide variety of abilities and cultures. Chapters focus on issues that directly impact the educational lives of teachers, students, parents, and caregivers. Importantly, the confluence of assessment practices and community expectations also are highlighted. Assessment is highly politicized in contemporary society, and this book will both confirm and challenge readers' beliefs and practices. Indeed, discerning readers will understand that the chapters offer them a bridge from many established assessment paradigms to pragmatic, ethical solutions that align with current expectations for schools and districts.

Part One readers engage with concepts and skills needed by school learning leaders to guide optimal assessment practices. Part Two delves into student assessment within and across disciplines. Part Three provides pragmatic approaches that address assessment in the context of inclusive, intercultural education, pluralism, and globalisation.

Steele,Craig

Huhn,2018-03-01 Over the past thirty years Holt High School in central Michigan has engaged in a quiet revolution that has transformed mathematics teaching and learning in the district From its roots as a rural high school housed in a single building in the 1980s the high school mathematics staff has grown an innovative meaningful high school mathematics curriculum that sees nearly every student in the district completing the equivalent of Precalculus Tracking was dropped in favor of an evolving suite of supports designed to promote student success in unifying rather than segregating ways Mathematics classrooms in Holt are discourse rich environments where teachers and students explore meaningful uses for mathematics as they reason and problem solve together This transformation took place and persists amidst changing professional partnerships shifting district demographics increasing accountability measures at the state and national level and turnover in teaching staff and district leadership In this book we explore the case of Holt High School through an exploration of how the mathematics curriculum has shifted over the past thirty years and the conditions and supports that have been put in place in the district to make this work fruitful and sustainable The story includes successes failures celebrations and challenges as we chronicle Holt's high school mathematics evolution Guiding questions protocols and reflective activities are provided for teachers and district leaders to begin the challenging conversations in their own district that lead to meaningful change
