Forty Thousand Miles Over Land and Water Ethel Gwendoline Vincent, 2021-05-19 In Forty Thousand Miles Over Land and Water Ethel Gwendoline Vincent takes readers on an extraordinary journey through her extensive travels across various landscapes cultures and experiences Written in a vivid and engaging literary style the book captures her observations and reflections with remarkable detail and sensitivity Vincent s work is situated within the early 20th century travel narrative genre where exploration and personal adventure were prominent themes inviting readers to connect with distant lands in an era of burgeoning globalization Her prose combines descriptive imagery with insightful commentary making her adventures relatable and inspiring Ethel Gwendoline Vincent an intrepid traveler and writer drew upon her own life experiences and love for exploration to pen this compelling work Born in the late 19th century Vincent was influenced by the expanding world of travel and the stories of female explorers who paved the way for women s voices Her encounters with diverse cultures and communities not only enriched her life but also served as a catalyst for her passion for storytelling Forty Thousand Miles Over Land and Water is a must read for those who seek adventure through the written word Vincent s keen observations and heartfelt reflections invite readers to embark on their own journeys both literal and metaphorical This book resonates with wanderers and armchair travelers alike making it an essential addition to any travel literature collection

Sex and Desire in Muslim Cultures Aymon Kreil, Lucia Sorbera, Serena Tolino, 2020-12-10 What have different ideas about sex and gender meant for people throughout the history of the Middle East and North Africa This book traces sex and desire in Muslim cultures through a collection of chapters that span the 9th to 21st centuries Looking at spaces and periods where sexual norms and the categories underpinning them emerge out of multiple subjectivities the book shows how people constantly negotiate the formulation of norms their boundaries and their subversion It demonstrates that the cultural and political meanings of sexualities in Muslim cultures as elsewhere emerge from very specific social and historical contexts The first part of the book examines how people constructed discussed and challenged sexual norms from the Abbasid to the Ottoman period The second part looks at literary and cinematic Arab cultural production as a site for the construction and transgression of gender norms The third part builds on feminist historiography and social anthropology to question simplistic dichotomies and binaries Each of the contributions shows how understanding of sexualities and the subjectivities that evolve from them are rooted in the mutually constitutive relationships between gender and political power In identifying the plurality of discourses on desires the book goes beyond the dichotomy of norm and transgression to glimpse what different sexual norms have meant at different times across the Middle East

Merchant Vessels of the United States United States. Coast Guard,1980 Outing ,1914 Outing Magazine Poultney Bigelow,James Henry Worman,Ben James Worman,Caspar Whitney,Albert Britt,1914 Chemotherapy Frederick Becker,2012-12-06 The promise of chemotherapeutic control in the field of oncology seemed in the beginning no less bright than it had proven in the field of bacterial disease and therefore its failures were felt all the more Despite the serendipitous discoveries and inspired insights which tantalized us with striking remissions or the rare tumors which proved to be fully susceptible to a given agent in the main there has been either total failure or a painfully slow acquisition of an armamentarium against a limited number of malignancies To expect more however was the result of ignorance of the malignant cell for as has been described in the previous volumes of this series the exploitable differences between malignant and normal cells are few or undiscovered Differences is the numerator in this formula but exploitable is the operational term for although a great number of differences between normal and malignant cells have been described rarely are these differences observed in a vital metabolic pathway or a crucial macromolecular structure Essentially the basic metabolic pathways and nutritional requirements for normal and malignant cells are the same resulting in the fact that no chemotherapeutic agent can successfully inhibit a function in the majority of malignant cells without adversely affecting a similar function in the normal cell It was therefore naive to expect a magic bullet which would select the malignant cell and destroy it
