

Chapter 3

Pharmacokinetics and Pharmacodynamics

OBJECTIVES

1. Differentiate the three phases of drug action.
2. Describe the four processes of pharmacokinetics.
3. Identify the four receptor families.
4. Describe the influence of protein binding on drug bioavailability.
5. Check drugs for half-life, percentage of protein binding, therapeutic index, and side effects in a drug reference book.
6. Differentiate the four types of drug interactions.
7. Explain the three mechanisms involved with drug-drug interactions.
8. Describe the effects of drug-nutrient interactions.
9. Explain the meaning of drug-induced photosensitivity.
10. Describe the nursing implications of pharmacokinetics and pharmacodynamics.

Pharmacokinetics

- The process of drug movement throughout the body necessary to achieve drug action.
- What the body does to the drug
- Composed of four processes:
 1. Absorption
 2. Distribution
 3. Metabolism
 4. Excretion
- Drug absorption
 - The movement of the drug into the bloodstream after administration.
 - Approximately 80% of drugs are taken by mouth (enteral).
 - These are the only drugs to pass through the GI tract
 - For the body to use drugs taken by mouth, a drug in a solid form (e.g., tablet or capsule) must disintegrate into small particles and combine with a liquid to form a solution, a process known as dissolution (drugs in a liquid form are already in solution), to be absorbed from the GI tract into the bloodstream
 - Tablets are not 100% drug. Fillers and inert substances – such as simple syrup, vegetable gums, aromatic powder, honey, and various elixirs – called excipients are used in drug preparation to allow the drug to take on a particular size and shape and to enhance drug dissolution.
 - Disintegration - Breakdown of oral drug form into small particles
 - Dissolution - Combining small drug particles with liquid to form a solution
 - The rate of dissolution is the time it takes the drug to disintegrate and dissolve to become available for the body to absorb it.

Critical Care Study Guide Gerard J. Criner,Gilbert E. D'Alonzo,2013-03-09 Critical care medicine is a dynamic and exciting arena where complex pathophysiologic states requiring extensive knowledge and clinical acumen are commonly found. Caring for critically ill patients requires an extensive knowledge of basic pathophysiology as well as awareness of the appropriate diagnostic tests and therapeutic interventions. Because this knowledge base crosses many different disciplines, introduction to caring for the intensive care patient while exciting may also be intimidating. This textbook is designed toward making the dynamic environment of the critical care unit understandable and the approach to the patient both logical and successful. The book contains three components: 1) description of the procedural tasks commonly performed for the critically ill patient; 2) explanation of the most common pathophysiologic states encountered; and 3) description of specific disease entities with details of their differential diagnosis, diagnostic strategy, and therapeutic plan. This book also uses several educational approaches that we have found useful in our own teaching sessions and prior textbooks. Clinical cases introduce chapters and highlight chapter segments to emphasize clinical relevancy. As an additional study aid, margin notes highlight important teaching points and facilitate easy review of chapter content. To consolidate the principles outlined in each chapter, review questions with full text explanations are provided at the end of each chapter. All these elements help reinforce the most important messages for the reader.
