Une Autre Voie:

L'autre voie de la subjectivité Yves Charles Zarka, 2000 La question de la subjectivité est au centre de la définition de la modernité. Or cette question a été le plus souvent examinée d'un point de vue cartésien. Le présent ouvrage montre qu'il y a en vérité une autre histoire de la subjectivité qui se développe dans les théories du droit naturel et qui va donner naissance au sujet de droit figure majeure du sujet moderne.

Concordance to the French Poetry and Prose of John Gower R. F. Yeager, Mark West, Robin L. Hinson, 2012-01-01 That the poet John Gower was a major literary figure in England at the close of the fourteenth century is no longer in question. Scholarly attention paid to him and to his work over the past twenty-five years has redeemed him from an undeserved obscurity imposed by the preceding two hundred years. The facts of his life and career are now documented and recent critical assessment has placed his achievement most accurately alongside Chaucer's Langlands and the Gawain poet. Unique among his contemporaries, all of whom undoubtedly read and used French in some measure, Gower alone has left us a significant body of verse and prose in Anglo-Norman, chiefly the twelve stanza poem Mirour de l'Homme, the Cinkante Balades, and the Traité pour les amantz marietz. We are offered in this concordance of his Anglo-Norman work a unique opportunity to view a poetic language as it was written and read in England until Gower's death in 1408 and beyond.

Regulating Dispute Resolution Felix Steffek, Hannes Unberath, Hazel Genn, Reinhard Greger, Carrie Menkel-Meadow, 2014-07-18 This book proposes a principled approach to the regulation of dispute resolution. It covers dispute resolution mechanisms in all their varieties, including negotiation, mediation, conciliation, expert opinion, mini-trial, ombud procedures, arbitration, and court adjudication. The authors present a transnational Guide for Regulating Dispute Resolution (GRDR). The regulatory principles contained in this Guide are based on a functional taxonomy of dispute resolution mechanisms, an open normative framework, and a modular structure of regulatory topics. The Guide for Regulating Dispute Resolution is formulated and commented upon in a concise manner to assist legislators, policy makers, professional associations, practitioners, and academics in thinking about which solutions best suit local and regional circumstances. The aim of this book is to contribute to the understanding and development of the legal framework governing national and international dispute resolution. Theory, empirical research, and regulatory models have been taken from the wealth of experience in 12 jurisdictions: Austria, Belgium, Denmark, England and Wales, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, Norway, Switzerland, and the United States of America. Experts with a background in academia, practice, and law-making describe and analyse the regulatory framework and social reality of dispute resolution in these countries. On this basis, the authors draw conclusions about policy choices, regulatory strategies, and the practice of conflict resolution. This title is included in Bloomsbury Professional's International Arbitration online service.

International Acts Series ,1945 Telecommunications ,1951 Ancient Kingdoms of West Africa Dierk Lange,2004 Sub Saharan African history does not feature in the world history of the classical period because it continues to be dominated by an emphasis on local paradigms Using hitherto unexplored sources this study places parts of West and also East Africa on the map for the ancient world It shows in particular that the main clan and state structures of several West African kingdoms are based on the same dualistic pattern as that of the Canaanite Israelite and hence also Phoenician societies Supported by written records oral traditions and cult dramatic performances these similarities suggest the existence of early trans Saharan contacts reaching back to the pre Roman period The Phoenician slave trade appears to have been the single most important factor explaining the transfer of these organizational forms from North Africa to the sub Saharan region where they are particularly prominent in the Hausa and Yoruba societies Similar social institutions were transmitted from the Semitic world to the Horn of Africa as a result of the ancient myrrh and frankincense trade Their subsequent contextualization and local adaptation led to the rise of a number of great kingdoms in West and East Africa Some of these polities grew so powerful that they conquered and controlled the successor states of their former metropolitan suzerains Dealing with regional history as well the volume presents the development of the West African empires of Ghana Mali and Songhay from the new perspective of ethnogenesis There are numerous original maps charts and photographs to illustrate the text Dierk Lange is Professor of African History at the University of Bayreuth in Germany He presents here the results of more than thirty years of research devoted to the history of Africa and explains his more recent focus on relations with Phoenician North Africa Before his appointment in Bayreuth he studied African and Islamic history as well as anthropology in Paris worked on Arabic texts for four years in Cairo and taught African and Islamic history for five years at the University of Niamey He crossed the Sahara several times and undertook more than fifteen research trips to Nigeria Niger and Chad His publications in three languages include two books numerous articles in learned journals and two contributions to the UNESCO history of Africa He is unique in comparing African cultural forms with those of the ancient Near East
