Thanksgiving UNLUCKY IN LOVE Book 9 Layla Dupriest's father was killed in a hunting accident when she was a child so when the man who was once the love of her life Benji Johnson encourages her nephew to go hunting and he's hurt she blames Ben. Months later she can see she wasn't fair. Adam Schaefer has loved Tally Johnson Benji's sister since he was a teenager but his love of flying and freedom surpassed anything that might clip his wings like a wife monogamy marriage and settling down. The last thing he expected was for her to fall for his best friend and to have that man's baby. Unlucky in love and unable to count their blessings during the Thanksgiving holiday Layla and Adam find themselves jilted at the same time. Heartbroken snowed in and forced to share the only available cabin in town they have no choice but to re-evaluate everything they've ever wanted in life and love. Christmas SHOTGUN WEDDING Book 10 Trevor and Eden were married right out of high school. She'd believed she was pregnant but that hadn't been her sole motivation. Wildly in love with Trevor Johnson she'd worried he was becoming disenchanted with her his attention consumed by the needy and seductive Delaney Foster who came to Amethyst every year with her family. In the years Eden and Trevor have been married she's never felt quite secure in the belief that he married her by choice in love. During the Christmas season plagued by unspoken guilt and doubts she finds herself again competing with a soon-to-be-divorced distraught and disgustingly gorgeous Delaney. Eden is obsessively aware she's no longer as young thin or sexy as she'd been before she had three sons. To top off her growing stress Eden has discovered she and Trevor's oldest son and his girlfriend in their senior year of high school are sexually active. The last thing they need is another shotgun wedding and the potential that a marriage undertaken for the sake of a baby isn't necessarily one of choice or love.

Work, Family, and Faith Melissa Walker, Rebecca Sharpless, 2006 At the beginning of the twentieth century the majority of rural southerners were dependent on agriculture and eked out a living as tenants on land owned by someone else. Women took on multiple duties from child rearing to labor in the fields to help meet their own goals of independence well-being and family persistence on the land. Over the course of the century however women found their lives and their work transformed. Government intervention the Great Depression and industrial job opportunities created by the two world wars and the development of Sun Belt industries lured or pushed tens of thousands of black and white rural southerners off the land. As the American South changed around them becoming more urban and industrialized some women struggled to help their families survive in the increasingly large scale and commercial agricultural economy while other women eagerly seized opportunities to engage in rural reform get better educations and work at off-farm jobs. Whether they moved to the cities or stayed on the farms most of these women continued to struggle against poverty and relied on tradition and inner strength to
