Sophie Writes A Love Story:

I, Mary Linda Kay, 2019-01-31 There are many missing years and little mention of Mary of Nazareth in the Bible beyond the birth of Jesus I Mary fills in these missing years with Mary's own story of her emotions and her experiences as she cares for her husband and family The story is interspersed with quotations from biblical texts to make the story one of historical fiction She demonstrates her very human responses to events and struggles with her own perception of the promises of Jesus's life Explore with the author what might have been in Mary's mind and heart Out of Darkness to Accepted Love Linda Kay, 2015-11-24 C Clyde Squires depicts accepted love in a print of a wedding scene This artwork is a part of a series of five prints of the stages of love given to my grandmother in 1916 for her bridal shower The prints serve as an inspiration for the novels written for each The first is mother love in Annie's Love the second is puppy love in Sophie Writes a Love Story For Carol Braun the pathway to accepted love was long and difficult because of tragic events in her life which led to counseling Carol was a loner in college until she decided to try to force herself out of her shell of protection and face the demons haunting her since childhood The result is disastrous Jeff Lipton is a young businessman and vulnerable to a beautiful woman who takes advantage of him manipulating his attraction to her to wreak havoc with his business and his personal life His experience leaves him angry and unwilling to pursue another relationship Out of Darkness to Accepted Love tells the story behind these two individuals who will put the past behind them From this vintage print comes a present life story that addresses the mental effects of child abuse rape and manipulation The application of counseling and religious guidance directs them to forgiveness and strength of character and it can be a guide to any reader suffering from such tragedies

Women Write Back Stephanie M. Hilger,2009-01-01 Women Write Back explores the late eighteenth and early nineteenth century women's responses to texts written by well known Enlightenment figures Hilger investigates the authorial strategies employed by Karoline von Gunderode Ellis Cornelia Knight Julie de Krudener and Helen Maria Williams whose works engage Voltaire's Mahomet Johnson's Rasselas Goethe's Werther and Rousseau's Julie The analysis of these women's texts sheds light on the literary culture of a period that deemed itself not only enlightened but also egalitarian Gay and Lesbian Literary Heritage Claude J. Summers,2014-02-25 The revised edition of The Gay and Lesbian Literary Heritage is a reader's companion to this impressive body of work It provides overviews of gay and lesbian presence in a variety of literatures and historical periods in depth critical essays on major gay and lesbian authors in world literature and briefer treatments of other topics and figures important in appreciating the rich and varied gay and lesbian literary traditions Included are nearly 400 alphabetically arranged articles by more than 175 scholars from around the world New articles in this volume feature authors such as Michael Cunningham Tony Kushner Anne Lister Kate Millet Jan Morris Terrence McNally and Sarah Waters essays on topics such as Comedy of Manners and Autobiography and overviews of Danish Norwegian Philippines and Swedish literatures as well as updated and revised articles and bibliographies Novalis, Signs of Revolution William Arctander O'Brien, 1995 Novalis traces the meteoric career of one of the most striking and most strikingly misunderstood figures of German Romanticism Although Friedrich von Hardenberg better known by his pseudonym Novalis published scarcely eighty pages of writings in his lifetime his considerable fame and influence continued to spread long after his death in 1801 His posthumous reputation however was largely based on the myth manufactured by opportunistic editors as Wm Arctander O'Brien reveals in this book the first to extract Hardenberg from the distortions of history A member of the generation of the 1770s that included Hegel Hölderlin and Schelling Hardenberg was an avid follower of the French Revolution a semiotician avant la lettre and a prescient critic of religion Yet in 1802 only a year after his death the writer who had scandalized the Prussian court was marketed to a nation at war as a reactionary patriot a sweet versifier of Idealism and a morbid mystic Identifying the break between Hardenberg's own early Romanticism and the late Romanticism that falsified it Novalis shows us a writer fully engaged in revolutionary politics and examines his semiotic readings of philosophy and of the political scientific and religious institutions of the day Drawing on the full range of Novalis's writings including his poetry notebooks novels and journals O'Brien situates his semiotics between those of the eighteenth century and those of the twentieth and demonstrates the manner in which a concern for signs and language permeated all aspects of his thought The most extensive study of Hardenberg available in English Novalis makes this revolutionary theoretician visible for the first time Mining a crucial chapter in the history of semiotics and social theory it suggests fruitful sometimes problematic connections between semiotic historical deconstructive and philological practices as it presents a portrait of one of the most complex figures in literary history Indispensable for scholars of German Romanticism Novalis will also be of interest to students of comparative literature and European intellectual history Social Worlds of Children Learning to Write in an Urban Primary School Anne Haas Dyson, 1993 Dyson supports efforts to make literacy curricula accessible to our schools socioculturally diverse population This two year ethnographic study of K-3 children focuses on six students who would normally be deemed at risk and who do not tell stories in the written language format valued by most early literacy educators Their literacy learning particularly their writing development is portrayed as a social process in a complex social world Dyson's key theme is the link between composing a text and composing a place in this social world Dyson reconceptualizes classrooms as places for dynamic combinations of critical thinking humor growth and understanding for children and their teachers Harvard Educational Review Reading/Speaking/Writing the Mother Text; Essays on Caribbean Women's Writing

Cristina Herrera, Paula Sanmartín, 2015-08-01 While scholarship on Caribbean women's literature has grown into an established discipline there are not many studies explicitly connected to the maternal subject matter and among them only a few book length texts have focalized motherhood and maternity in writings by Caribbean women Reading Speaking Writing the Mother Text Essays on Caribbean Women's Writing encourages a crucial dialogue surrounding the state of motherhood scholarship within the Caribbean literary landscape to call for attention on a theme that although highly visible remains understudied by academics While this collection presents a similar comparative and diasporic approach to other book length studies on Caribbean women's writing it deals with the complexity of including a wider geographical linguistic ethnic and generic diversity while exposing the myriad ways in which Caribbean women authors shape and construct their texts to theorize motherhood mothering maternity and mother daughter relationships
