Translation of Addictions Science Into Practice Peter M. Miller, David Kavanagh, 2011-04-28 Recent advances in the understanding of the genetic neurochemical behavioral and cultural underpinnings of addiction have led to rapid advances in the understanding of addiction as a disease In fact advances in basic science and the development of new pharmacological and behavioral therapies associated with them are appearing faster than can be assimilated not only by clinical researchers but practitioners and policy makers as well Translation of science based addictions knowledge into improved prevention assessment and treatment and communication of these changes to researchers and practitioners are significant challenges to the field The general aim of Translation of Addictions Science Into Practice is to summarize current and potential linkages between advances in addiction science and innovations in clinical practice Whilst this book is primarily focused on translation it also encompasses some scientific advances that are relevant to dissemination and the book is itself a tool for disseminating innovative thinking The goal is to generate interest in application opportunities from both recent research and theoretical advances Provides a much needed resource for translating current research into clinical practice Focuses upon alcohol tobacco and substance abuse addictions Addresses method of research and best dissemination techniques

From Literary Composition to Cinematic Adaptation: A Study of Cinema through Literature from Indian Perspective Dipak Giri, 2022-03-12 Adaptation of literary texts be it Indian or foreign into Indian cinema or Indian literary texts into foreign cinema is not new for film makers rather one can say that such adaptation is as long as film making itself Last few decades have witnessed a spectacular rise of many such adaptations produced out of literary texts From past to present literary texts of many popular writers from national to global level have been adapted into Indian cinema and also Indian literary texts into foreign cinema However adapting a literary work into a two or three hours cinema mostly in case of a novel is not always an easy task to a film maker as sometimes accommodation does not come to fit in the stipulated time frame which eventually results in messing up the whole essence of the original art Regardless of partial or whole a cinema based on literary text has always been a great appeal to an erudite person The present anthology is an endeavour of some select Indian cinema based on literary texts irrespective of Indian and foreign and also some foreign cinema based on wholly Indian literary texts Be it Indian cinema based on popular world literature or foreign cinema based on wholly Indian texts the book is a deft study of the cinematic adaptation of literary texts from an Indian perspective Publication ,1917
