The Mayan Red Queen Leonide Martin,2015-08-07 The ancient Maya city of Lakam Ha has a new young ruler K inich Janaab Pakal His mother and prior ruler Sak K uk has selected his wife the next queen Lalak is a shy and homely young woman from a nearby city who relates better to animals than people She is chosen as Pakal s wife because of her pristine lineage to B aakal dynasty founders but also because she is no beauty Arriving at Lakam Ha she is overwhelmed by its sophisticated complex society and expectations of the royal court Her mother in law Sak K uk is critical and hostile resenting any intrusion between herself and her son She chose Lalak to avoid being displaced in Pakal s affections and does everything she can to keep it this way The official name she confers on Lalak exposes her view of the girl as a breeder of future rulers Tz aabk u Ahau the Accumulator of Lords who sets the royal succession Lalak struggles to learn her new role and prove her worth facing challenges in her relationship with Pakal for he is enamored of a beautiful woman banished from Lakam Ha by his mother Pakal's esthetic tastes and love of beauty affect his view of his homely wife Lalak however is fated to play a pivotal role in Pakal's mission to restore the spiritual portal to the Triad Gods that was destroyed in a devastating attack by archenemy Kan Through learning sexual alchemy Lalak brings the immense creative force of sacred union to rebuild the portal but first Pakal must come to view his wife in a new light In modern times ten years after the discovery of the Red Queen's tomb archeologist Francesca is studying new research about this mysterious royal woman in Merida Mexico She teams up with British linguist Charlie to decipher an ancient manuscript left by her deceased grandmother It provides clues about her grandmother's secrets that propel them into exploring her family history in a remote Maya village

Reconsidering Olmec Visual Culture Carolyn E. Tate, 2012-08-24 Recently scholars of Olmec visual culture have identified symbols for umbilical cords bundles and cave wombs as well as a significant number of women portrayed on monuments and as figurines In this groundbreaking study Carolyn Tate demonstrates that these subjects were part of a major emphasis on gestational imagery in Formative Period Mesoamerica In Reconsidering Olmec Visual Culture she identifies the presence of women human embryos and fetuses in monuments and portable objects dating from 1400 to 400 BC and originating throughout much of Mesoamerica This highly original study sheds new light on the prominent roles that women and gestational beings played in Early Formative societies revealing female shamanic practices the generative concepts that motivated caching and bundling and the expression of feminine knowledge in the 260 day cycle and related divinatory and ritual activities Reconsidering Olmec Visual Culture is the first study that situates the unique hollow babies of Formative Mesoamerica within the context of prominent females and the prevalent imagery of gestation and birth It is also the first major art historical study of La Venta and the first to identify Mesoamerica's earliest creation narrative It provides a more nuanced understanding of how later societies including Teotihuacan and West Mexico as well as the Maya either rejected certain Formative Period visual forms rituals social roles and concepts or adopted and transformed them into the enduring themes of Mesoamerican symbol systems
