Writing the Holocaust S. Vice, 2004-06-29 This book examines a wide range of works written by and about child survivors and victims of the Holocaust. The writers analyzed range from Anne Frank and Saul Friedlander to Ida Fink and Louis Begley. Topics covered include the Kindertransport, experience in exile to Siberia, living in hiding, Jewish children masquerading as Christian, and ghetto diaries. Throughout the argument is made that these texts use such similar techniques and structures that children's eye views of the Holocaust constitute a discrete literary genre. The London Lancet, 1851 The Century Dictionary and Cyclopedia William Dwight Whitney, Benjamin Eli Smith, 1902 Bibliography of Natural History Travel Narratives Anne S. Troelstra, 2017-06-01

Anne Troelstra's fine bibliography is an outstanding and ground-breaking work. He has provided the academic world with a long-needed bibliographical record of human endeavour in the field of the natural sciences. The travel narratives listed here encompass all aspects of the natural world in every part of the globe but are especially concerned with its fauna, flora, and fossil remains. Such eyewitness accounts have always fascinated their readers but they were never written solely for entertainment; fragmentary though they often are, these narratives of travel and exploration are of immense importance for our scientific understanding of life on earth, providing us with a window on an ever-changing and often vanishing natural world. Without such records of the past, we could not track, document, or understand the significance of changes that are so important for the study of zoogeography. With this book, Troelstra gives us a superb overview of natural history travel narratives. The well over four thousand detailed entries, ranging over four centuries and all major western European languages, are drawn from a wide range of sources and include both printed books and periodical contributions. While no subject bibliography by a single author can attain absolute completeness, Troelstra's work is comprehensive to a truly remarkable degree. The entries are arranged alphabetically by author and chronologically by the year of first publication under the author's name. A brief biography with the scope and range of their work is given for each author; every title is set in context, the contents (including illustrations) are described, and all known editions and translations are cited. In addition, there is a geographical index that cross-refers between authors and the regions visited, and a full list of the bibliographical and biographical sources used in compiling the bibliography. The Pragmatics of Literary

Testimony Chantelle Warner, 2012-11-27 In this book, Warner examines a number of German language literary autobiographies that are connected to diverse social movements of the last forty years. These books have all received critical attention from the popular press, topped bestseller lists, and have been pivotal in discussions of authenticity, subjectivity, and referentiality. Because of the thematic diversity of these works, scholars within literary and cultural studies have tended to treat them separately under topical categories such as women's literature, the post-war generation, migration, and multiculturalism, etc. Underlying Warner's analysis is the belief that the social construction of autobiographical acts is as much a matter of textuality as it is of topicality, i.e. how language means rather than what it means, and that a pragmatic stylistic approach is well suited to describing how literary autobiographies come to function as testimonies to certain collective experiences By presenting a model for an integrative stylistics approach The Pragmatics of Literary Testimony participates in current discussions within fields of literary linguistic scholarship as well as autobiographical theory In its analysis of key examples of German social testimonies from the late twentieth century this book incorporates insights from discourse analysis pragmatics cognitive poetics and sociolinguistics in order to demonstrate that this diverse body of works constitutes a particular form of textual practice defined by what the author calls authenticity effects feelings of realism immediacy exemplarity genuineness and social relevance Such a study of authenticity as a poetic effect can help us to better understand the testimonial glamour owned by various types of autobiographical narration

Discovering Child Art Jonathan David Fineberg, Jonathan Fineberg, 2001-01-23 This book brings together thirteen distinguished critics and scholars to explore children's art and its profound but rarely documented influence on the evolution of modern art It shows that children's art and childhood have inspired major works of art served as central metaphors for artistic spontaneity and honesty and provided a window into the fundamental human qualities explored by modern artists The volume complements editor Jonathan Fineberg's groundbreaking new book The Innocent Eye Princeton 1997 in which he showed how many of the greatest masters of modern art collected and were directly influenced by children's drawings Contributors here both expand on Fineberg's themes and take the study of children's art in new directions They examine for example the influence of child art on such artists as Kandinsky Klee Larionov and Mir the diverse styles of children's art the influence of Romantic ideas on perceptions of children's art the conception of giftedness versus education in children's drawings and the relationship between children's art and primitivism The book offers unique glimpses into the working processes of great modern artists presenting for example Dora Vallier's personal recollections of Mir and his creative process and new documentation about the works of the Russian avant garde The essays draw on art theory psychology and the close study of individual works of art and written texts Discovering Child Art will appeal to a wide range of readers including art historians psychologists and art educators Contributors to the book are Troels Andersen Rudolf Arnheim John Carlin Marcel Franciscono Ernst Gombrich Christopher Green Josef Helfenstein Werner Hofmann Yuri Molok G G Pospelov Richard Shiff Dora Vallier and Barbara W rwa
