Life and Miracles of St. Benedict Pope Gregory I, 1949-03 A translation of the biography written by Pope Gregory the Great this official biography is also known as the Second Book of Dialogues It is the earliest and thus the most valuable biography of St Benedict The Life and Miracles of St. Benedict Saint Gregory the Great, Gregory, 2007-06-01 The Life of Our Most Holy Father St. Benedict Saint Gregory I, 2017-11-24 Perhaps one of the few of its kind this work tells the story of Saint Benedict a person who is often credited by the Roman Catholic church as founding Western monasticism in the ancient world The first half of this book tells the story of his birth place in Italy his early education and parentage This work goes further on to tell the story of his construction of twelve monasteries and some miracles he may have performed The second half of this book tells of the rules of monasticism that was handed down to Pope Gregory I by Benedict's line of successors and disciples Although there was no real written work to base his findings off of the testimony of the successors has yet to be disproven in any way Life of St. Benedict Surnamed the Moor Giuseppe Carletti, 2018-10-13 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public To ensure a quality reading experience this work has been proofread and republished using a format that seamlessly blends the original graphical elements with text in an easy to read typeface We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant The Life and Miracles of St. Benedict Pope Gregory I, 1925 The Life and Miracles of St Benedict St Gregory the Great, 2016-03-29 Excerpt THERE was a man of venerable life Benedict by name and grace who from the time of his very childhood carried the heart of an old man His demeanour indeed surpassing his age he gave himself no disport or pleasure but living here upon earth he despised the world with all the glory thereof at such time as he might have most freely enjoyed it He was born in the province of Nursia of honourable parentage and sent to Rome to study the liberal sciences But when he saw there many through the uneven paths of vice run headlong to their own ruin he drew back his foot but new set in the world lest in the search of human knowledge he might also fall into the same dangerous precipice Contemning therefore learning and studies and abandoning his father's house and goods he desired only to please God in a virtuous life Therefore he departed skilfully ignorant and wisely unlearned I have not attained unto all this man did but the few things which I here setdown were related to me by four of his disciples namely Constantine a very reverend man who succeeded him in the government of the Monastery Valentinian who for many years bore rule in the Monastery of Lateran Simplicius who was the third superior of that congregation after him and Honoratus who yet governeth the Monastery which he first inhabited CHAPTER I Benedict having now left the schools resolved to betake himself to the desert accompanied only by his nurse who most tenderly loved him Coming therefore to a place called Affile and remaining for some time in the Church of St Peter by the charitable invitement of many virtuous people who lived there for devotion so it chanced that his nurse borrowed of a neighbour a sieve to cleanse wheat which being left carelessly upon the table was found broken in two pieces Therefore on her return finding it broke she began to weep bitterly because it was only lent her But the religious and pious boy Benedict seeing his nurse lament was moved with compassion and taking with him the two pieces of the broken sieve with tears he gave himself to prayer which no sooner ended but he found the sieve whole and found not any sign that it had been broken Then presently he restored the sieve which had been broken whole to his nurse to her exceeding comfort This matter was divulged unto all that lived thereabout and so much admired by all that the inhabitants of that place caused the sieve to be hanged up in the Church porch that not only those present but all posterity might know with how great gifts of grace Benedict had been endowed from the beginning of his conversion The sieve remained to be seen for many years after and hung over the Church door even until the times of the Longobards But Benedict more desirous to suffer afflictions than covetous of praise and rather willing to undergo labours for the honour of God than to be extolled with the favours of this world fled secretly from his nurse to a remote place in the desert called Subiaco distant about forty miles from Rome in which a fountain springing with cool and crystal waters extendeth itself at first into a broad lake and running farther with increase of waters becometh at the last a river The Life of Saint Benedict Pope Gregory I,2018-02-24 The Life and Prayers of Saint Benedict Wyatt North,2013-08-25 St Benedict was not interested in fame power or legacy He was only interested in living the Christian life to the fullest and helping those around him to do the same The rest is history and the work of Providence St Benedict is regarded as the Father of the Benedictine Order of both religious men and women that follow his Rule a key principle of which is ora et labora pray and work Today many people wear holy medals of St Benedict invoking his intercession for protection against the powers of evil Not only consecrated religious but also many lay people find inspiration in his call to balance discipline and prayer Historically St Benedict helped bridge the early Church with the medieval period by standing on the shoulders of the fathers of the monastic tradition and bringing that tradition solidly into a new era The Life of Our Most Holy Father Saint Benedict St. Gregory St. Gregory the Great,2014-10-17 This is a biography written by the medieval pope Gregory the Great about St Benedict The Life and Times of St. Benedict Petrus Lechner,Peter Lechner,1900 The Life and Miracles of St. Benedict Saint Great,St. Gregory the Great,Edmund J. Luck,Brother Hermenegild,2013-04-10 The present volume reproduces a work of antiquity which describes the Life and Miracles of St Benedict in a narrative full of beautiful simplicity and filial love a narrative whose every page bears the impress of patristic authority and monastic devotedness This narrative flows from no less distinguished a pen than that of the Monk Pope St Gregory the Great He writes with the credentials of the Vicar of Jesus Christ upon earth and is supported by the testimony of those who were at the same time eye witnesses of the facts he describes and his own intimate and cherished brethren in religion Hence the filial admiration which he displays of the Venerable Father who as he says wrote a rule for his monks both excellent for discretion and also eloquent for the style J he translation which is here presented to the reader is also itself a relic of antiquity having been first published in Paris in 1608 However before speaking of the old English version it will be well to premise a few remarks on St Gregory s Book of Dialogues from which the Life of St Benedict is taken and which constitutes the matter presented under this particular form The second book of the Dialogues of St Gregory is given in its entirety to the narration of the Life and Miracles of St Benedict We must not however expect to find a finished biography of the Saint According to the generally accepted signification of the word we expect to find in a biography a chronological and consecutive account of the actions of the person who forms the subject of the narrative with a more or less complete recital of the undertakings in which he was engaged and which have rendered his name celebrated besides this if the subject of the biography comes within the range of hagiology we look moreover for a detailed and classified rehearsal of his heroic virtues confirmed and illustrated by a variety of miraculous manifestations of his sanctity Now this is not precisely what St Gregory proposed to himself to accomplish and we must not therefore expect in the following pages a finished and complete biography of St Benedict What was the precise object St Gregory had in view in writing the four books of his Dialogues we are told in the touching introduction with which the holy Monk Pope himself prefaces his work and which I here transcribe from the same old English version already mentioned Being upon a certain day too much overcharged with the troubles of worldly business in which oftentimes men are enforced to do more than of duty they are bound I retired myself into a solitary place very fit for a sad and melancholy disposition where each discontentment and dislike concerning such secular affairs might plainly show themselves and all things that usually bring grief mustered together might freely be presented before mine eyes In which place after that I had sat a long while in much silence and great sorrow of soul at length Peter my dear son and deacon came unto me a man whom from his younger years I had always loved most entirely and used him for my companion in the study of Sacred Scripture who seeing me drowned in such a depth of sorrow spake unto me in this manner What is the matter or what bad news have you heard for certain I am that some extraordinary sadness doth now afflict your mind
