The Cure of Poetry in an Age of Prose Mary Kinzie, 1993-07-15 The role of the poet Mary Kinzie writes is to engage the most profound subjects with the utmost in expressive clarity The role of the critic is to follow the poet word for word into the arena where the creative struggle occurs How this mutual purpose is served ideally and practically is the subject of this bracingly polemical collection of essays A distinguished poet and critic Kinzie assesses poetry's situation during the past twenty five years Ours she contends is literally a prosaic age not only in the popularity of prose genres but in the resultant compromises with truth and elegance in literature In essays on the rhapsodic fallacy confessionalism and the romance of perceptual response Kinzie diagnoses some of the trends that diminish the poet's flexibility Conversely she also considers individual poets Randall Jarrell Elizabeth Bishop Howard Nemerov Seamus Heaney and John Ashbery who have found ingenious ways of averting the risks of prosaism and preserving the special character of poetry Focusing on poet Louise Bogan and novelist J M Coetzee Kinzie identifies a crucial and curative overlap between the practices of great prose writing and great poetry In conclusion she suggests a new approach for teaching writers of poetry and fiction Forcefully argued these essays will be widely read and debated among critics and poets alike

Spellbound Daniel Z. Lieberman, MD, 2022-08-23 Psychiatrist Daniel Z Lieberman MD reveals how to join forces with your unconscious to make better decisions find more meaning in everyday life and develop a richer more balanced way of living The conscious mind the part of your mental life you experience directly is responsible for only a tiny sliver of what science says is going on inside your brain Most of what you experience your moods and the things you like or dislike most of who you are comes from a much more mysterious part of your mind the unconscious And to really understand the influences of the unconscious says psychiatrist Daniel Z Lieberman coauthor of The Molecule of More we need to look to something often considered science's alter ego magic Drawing on the work of Swiss psychiatrist Carl Jung and with deep dives into what we can learn from ancient mystical traditions from alchemy to numerology to meditation Spellbound weaves together ancient magical traditions psychological research and the latest neuroscientific discoveries in order to bridge the gap between the conscious and unconscious mind Like it or not your unconscious is currently the source of most of your choices It s the source of your passions your energy and your gut instinct It can help you solve seemingly impossible problems with the gift of inspiration But it s not always working in your favor The unconscious is wild and untamed often leading us down self destructive paths that leave us baffled by our own decisions Spellbound helps you take a new path one where you learn how to recognize the influences of the unconscious and make it an ally in helping you become the person you were meant to be The human mind is perhaps the most mysterious thing in the universe Science is only beginning to uncover its secrets and some believe that we may never fully plumb its depths But the ancient traditions of magic traditions of understanding that have been built up over centuries give us another window into the hidden facets of our humanity After all as the visionary Arthur C Clarke once said Any sufficiently advanced technology is indistinguishable from magic

Almighty Pretending System Sheng HuaMiaoBi,2020-05-20 The beautiful lady shouted angrily Zhou Xiaofei are you going to die if you don t act tough Zhou Xiaofei said helplessly How did you know If I don t act tough I really will die Zhou Xiaofei who had suffered a car accident was given a new lease on life after receiving a darn system that required acting tough to acquire all sorts of skills From then on Zhou Xiaofei was either pretending to be strong or he was pretending to be strong

Imitating Christ in Magwi Todd D. Whitmore,2019-01-24 Imitating Christ in Magwi An Anthropological Theology achieves two things First focusing on indigenous Roman Catholics in northern Uganda and South Sudan it is a detailed ethnography of how a community sustains hope in the midst of one of the most brutal wars in recent memory that between the Ugandan government and the rebel Lord s Resistance Army Whitmore finds that the belief that the spirit of Jesus Christ can enter into a person through such devotions as the Adoration of the Eucharist gave people the wherewithal to carry out striking works of mercy during the conflict and like Jesus of Nazareth to risk their lives in the process Traditional devotion leveraged radical witness Second Gospel Mimesis is a call for theology itself to be a practice of imitating Christ Such practice requires both living among people on the far margins of society Whitmore carried out his fieldwork in Internally Displaced Persons camps and articulating a theology that foregrounds the daily if extraordinary lives of people Here ethnography is not an add on to theological concepts rather ethnography is a way of doing theology and includes what anthropologists call thick description of lives of faith Unlike theology that draws only upon abstract concepts what Whitmore calls anthropological theology is consonant with the fact that God did indeed become human It may well involve risk to one s own life Whitmore had to leave Uganda for three years after writing an article critical of the President but that is what imitatio Christi sometimes requires

Smith,2016-01-28 Historical biography has a mixed reputation at its best it can reveal much not only about an individual but the wider context of their life and society at worst it can result in a narrowly focused work of hagiography or condemnation Yet in spite of its sometimes inferior status amongst academics biography has remained a popular genre and in recent years has developed into new and intriguing areas As the essays in this volume reveal scholars from an array of different disciplines have embraced what biography can offer them expanding the remit of biography from people to things tracing the life of their chosen object from creation to use to disposal to rediscovery The increasing concern with the physicality of manuscripts and books has also meant an awareness of and interest in the lives of these forms of material culture Historians have also become increasingly interested in groups of individuals resulting in prosopographical studies A book on the diversity of biography is therefore very timely exploring the multi disciplinary application of historical biography in the period 500 1700 It presents fourteen case studies offering new approaches to historical biography written by early career researchers from backgrounds in archaeology English art architectural history and history demonstrating different approaches and techniques Overall the collection is a strong and united statement by a group of early career researchers who insist on the vitality of biography as a central concern of historians across the disciplines of the humanities Contributors believe that the life is a fundamental medium of study for the medieval and early modern periods and thus bolsters the move back towards biography as a primary tool of medieval and early modern scholars as well as a tool for future research for humanities scholars interested in biography Romantic Love Letter Fan HuaLuoXue,2019-11-08 This is a long chronicle romance The main embodiment of the protagonist Prince Peng and Yu Lixia from 1987 to 200was an unforgettable extramarital love The content is real vivid and touching and has strong infectious power The novel uses real people real things real time real places It fully reflects the growth process of the peasant born prince peng under unremitting efforts
