Tong, 2025-04-08 New readings of the ten Beethoven sonatas for piano and violin embracing both the performer's interpretation and the analyst's rigour This book provides new readings of the ten Beethoven sonatas for piano and violin many of which have been given surprisingly little attention by scholars to date This may be because nine of the sonatas are relatively early works written between 1797-1803 with only the final sonata Op 96 1812 standing apart However within these ten works Beethoven demonstrates numerous aspects of his musical personality and compositional style The analyses in this book engage with postmodern concerns such as hermeneutics intertextuality gender humour narratology and human interest revealing characteristics within these sonatas that have been slow to come to light Here are examples of the Beethovenian narrative that do not always encapsulate heroic struggle and triumph in many of the sonatas we find a witty smiling composer at odds with the growling Beethoven iconography Works within the violin sonata cycle interrogate the hypermasculine Beethoven trope before the last sonata is explored via a host of intertextual relationships with a body of early Romantic repertoire that emerged after Beethoven's death Embracing both the performer's interpretation and the analyst's rigour or vice versa this work offers methodologies for performer's analysis whilst acknowledging that both disciplines are essential to any project that seeks to address the nature of music as it is experienced in time The Language of Poetry John McRae,1998 This accessible textbook is unique in offering students hands on practical experience of textual analysis focused on poetry It combines activities with texts commentaries and further activity suggestions The Language of Newspapers Danuta Reah,2002 From the ideological bias of the press to the role of headlines in newspaper articles and ways in which newspapers relate to their audience the book provides a comprehensive analysis of newspaper language The Language of Sport Adrian Beard,1998 Looks at sport in its wider social context Examines the way sport sells itself as an agent of social cohesion and is used to sell products Explores how sporting texts construct ideas about gender and national identity Uses examples from events as diverse as Wimbledon tennis Euro 96 and the World Athletics Championships

Idiomatic Expressions in English, German, Spanish, Portuguese and Romanian: A Comparative Study Bianca Iuliana Misinciuc,2020-05-01 Working with Texts Ronald Carter,2001 This is a core book that provides a basic foundation for understanding aspects of English language crucial in the analysis of texts It is informative challenging engaging and entertaining M Toolan University of Birmingham Python beyond Python Paul N. Reinsch,B. Lynn Whitfield,Robert G. Weiner,2017-07-14 This collection of original interdisciplinary essays addresses the work of Monty Python members beyond the comedy show films and live performances These men are prolific creators in a variety of artistic realms beyond the confines of the comedy troupe Their work as individuals before and after coming together as Monty Python demonstrates a restless curiosity about culture that embraces absurdity but seldom becomes cynical Python members collectively and individually create unique approaches to theatre film video games comic books business training videos and more Python Beyond Python increases our understanding of this often neglected work and the meanings of Monty Python Popular Music and the Myths of Madness Nicola Spelman,2016-04-22 Studies of opera film television and literature have demonstrated how constructions of madness may be referenced in order to stigmatise but also liberate protagonists in ways that reinforce or challenge contemporaneous notions of normality But to date very little research has been conducted on how madness is represented in popular music In an effort to redress this imbalance Nicola Spelman identifies links between the anti psychiatry movement and representations of madness in popular music of the 1960s and 1970s analysing the various ways in which ideas critical of institutional psychiatry are embodied both verbally and musically in specific songs by David Bowie Lou Reed Pink Floyd Alice Cooper The Beatles and Elton John She concentrates on meanings that may be made at the point of reception as a consequence of ideas about madness that were circulating at the time These ideas are then linked to contemporary conventions of musical expression in order to illustrate certain interpretative possibilities Supporting evidence comes from popular musicological analysis incorporating discourse analysis and social semiotics and investigation of socio historical context The uniqueness of the period in question is demonstrated by means of a more generalised overview of songs drawn from a variety of styles and eras that engage with the topic of madness in diverse and often conflicting ways The conclusions drawn reveal the extent to which anti psychiatric ideas filtered through into popular culture offering insights into popular music's ability to question general suppositions about madness alongside its potential to bring issues of men's madness into the public arena as an often neglected topic for discussion

Similes, Puns and Counterfactuals in Literary Narrative Jennifer Riddle Harding, 2017-04-21 In this study Jennifer Riddle Harding presents a cognitive analysis of three figures of speech that have readily identifiable forms similes puns and counterfactuals Harding argues that when deployed in literary narrative these forms have narrative functions such as the depiction of conscious experiences allegorical meanings and alternative plots uniquely developed by these more visible figures of speech Metaphors by contrast are often invisible in the formal structure of a text With a solid cognitive grounding Harding's approach emphasizes the relationship between figurative forms and narrative effects Harding demonstrates the literary functions of previously neglected figures of speech and the potential for a unified approach to a topic that crosses cognitive disciplines Her work has implications for the rhetorical approach to figures of speech for cognitive disciplines and for the studies of literature rhetoric and narrative
