Transformed Leadership Gary Taylor, 2013-03-01 The need of the church in America today is holiness. When lives are transformed, wholeness and holiness result. Scripture provides the basis for transformation to take place, and addressing this must include spiritual disciplines. Prayer, confession, Bible study, and other spiritual disciplines need to be practiced to build every believer's relationship with God and grow into His likeness. In this way, individuals and church leaders each become more effective in their spiritual lives. The more disciplines are practiced, the more effective leadership marks become apparent among the body of believers. As a result, the church becomes healthier. When its leaders are transformed, the whole church benefits. This book intentionally addresses four groups in the church. First, all people attending church will be challenged to practice spiritual disciplines. It will also challenge those who are training for Christian leadership, as well as pulpit committees, to stress that spiritual disciplines need to be found in a Christian leader. Finally, pastors will be challenged to personally incorporate spiritual disciplines into daily life to an even greater degree than before and urge the people they shepherd to do the same. Spiritual disciplines supply the supportive structure for the transformation of Romans 12:1-2 to take place. More than ever before, leaders are searching for answers in order to move the church in the right direction. Short-term success appears to be more popular among God's people than long-term effectiveness. The practice of spiritual disciplines will build and deepen spiritual lives. Core spiritual disciplines are foundational to build effective leadership marks in the lives of believers. Gary's desire in ministry is to be out of work to train and develop spiritual leaders in the church who can do the work of the ministry. Paul's final words to the elders in Ephesus were: "Guard yourselves and all the flock of which the Holy Spirit has made you overseers. Be shepherds of the church of God, which he bought with his own blood." Acts 20:28. He then followed up with his benediction: "Now I commit you to God and to the word of his grace. Feeding on the Word and maintaining an intimate trusting relationship with God are the keys that Gary emphasizes in this fine book. As my pastor, I have often heard him comment: 'That's not a hill worth dying on.' There are many projects and programs that could be pushed in the church, some good, most not worth dying for. But the one thing that is lacking is the development of men and women of God who consistently practice core spiritual disciplines. Character counts." Mark Anderson, technical consultant in media ministries with Pamir Productions.

Behold and Become Jeremy M. Kimble , 2023-06-20 The Bible is not merely for information but for being saved by God and changed through his words Believers know the Bible is powerful but how so And how does God save people and transform lives through Scripture Author and theology professor Jeremy M Kimble integrates an evangelical doctrine of Scripture with a robust coherent practice of engaging with Scripture Behold and Become contends that the Bible which is God s self revelation coupled with the Spirit works to produce salvation and growth in godliness Believers will see how sound beliefs about Scripture correspond with practices that allow for God s transforming work such as How the Bible s inerrancy demands our careful attention to the biblical authors as theologians How the Bible s efficacy operates within the doctrines of the triune God and the church How the Bible s authority directs our focus toward who God is and how he acts in the world

We become like what we behold Rather than passively assume the animating power of the Bible Behold and Become guides readers to make Scripture s vitality an overt part of their theology of Scripture and practice of Christian life Strive With Me Kayla Staph,2020-09-01 I chose you I appointed you to go and produce lasting fruit Jesus spoke these words to His disciples on the eve of His death His disciples were with Him for three years while He trained them in order to send them into the world Jesus had every expectation they would continue the mission and bear fruit This would prove they were truly His disciples Therefore are we truly followers of Jesus if we opt out of fulfilling His mission Can we say our lives are committed to Jesus if we have little concern for His plan To answer these questions we must begin to examine what type of gospel we believe The gospel we believe will produce the disciple we become In addition we will reproduce what we know in the lives of others Reproducing a false gospel or an incomplete gospel perpetuates an unhealthy cycle At best this cycle produces immature Christians and at worst it produces false converts It is imperative we begin here Jesus spoke often of the Kingdom of God but do we know what this means or why it is important We should know because the Kingdom of God is the context for the gospel and the Great Commission Like the gospel the Kingdom of God is a necessary talking point for all other talking points found in this book Strive with Me invites women into a process that unfolds with each chapter It calls women to come with teachable hearts which are open to honest self reflection and examination of our Christian women s culture It invites women to abandon patterns hindering them from fulfilling what Jesus commanded them to do It challenges women to deconstruct unbiblical cycles focus their minds on Scripture and participate in the mission of the Kingdom of God Challenging books on these topics have been written by some godly men We need their wisdom However it is time we as women take a hard look into our lives and our circles too It is time we answer the call to abide in the Scriptures grow spiritually according to the biblical definition and make disciples We are responsible to train and raise up the next generation of women Jesus has appointed us to accomplish this task while there is still breath in our lungs and so prove to be His disciples Will you answer the call
