Under Fire: Women and World War II Eveline Buchheim, Ralf Futselaar, 2014 Since the 1970s when the dominance of military histories of the World Wars ended and social historical histories of conflict rose to prominence women have come to play an increasingly important role in mainstream stories about the Second World War Although this is undeniably a valuable development the perspectives on women that arose have in many respects remained limiting although in new ways Women have been portrayed as carers as victims notably of sexual violence but rarely as agents of their own fate This volume focuses on this last group In spite of the undeniable suffering and victimization that befell so many women during the war for others the war also opened opportunities and awakened ambitions The articles in this volume which cover both Europe and Asia bring together some of the women who took initiatives of which they sometimes suffered the dire consequences sometimes enjoyed the fruits Air University Review , Women in the Civil War Mary Elizabeth Massey,1994-01-01 Given by the Madeley Estate Bibliography of the History of Medicine ,1993

With some assistance from friends she became the dashing Lieutenant Harry T Buford who is at first a recruiter for the Confederate Army. Later the transvestite Buford serves in combat at the Battles of Bull Run, Balls Bluff, Fort Donelson and Shiloh. Although wounded, her secrets are not revealed. Hallelujah Lads and Lasses Lillian Taiz, 2002-11-25 So strongly associated is the Salvation Army with its modern mission of service that its colorful history as a religious movement is often overlooked. In telling the story of the organization in America, Lillian Taiz traces its evolution from a working class evangelical religion to a movement that emphasized service as the path to salvation. When the Salvation Army crossed the Atlantic from Britain in 1879 it immediately began to adapt its religious culture to its new American setting. The group found its constituency among young working class men and women who were attracted to its intensely experiential religious culture which combined a frontier camp meeting style with working class forms of popular culture modeled on the saloon and theater. In the hands of these new recruits the Salvation Army developed a remarkably democratic internal culture. By the turn of the century though, as the Army increasingly attempted to attract souls by addressing the physical needs of the masses, the group began to turn away from boisterous religious expression toward a more refined religious culture and a more centrally controlled bureaucratic structure. Placing her focus on the membership of the Salvation Army and its transformation as an organization within the broader context of literature on class, labor and women's history, Taiz sheds new light on the character of American working class culture and religion in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries.

A Spirit of Service John Norberg, 2024-12-01 A Spirit of Service, Purdue University and the United States Military is a richly illustrated comprehensive look at the intersection of this great land grant university and the US military since classes first began in 1874. Spearheaded by the Purdue University College of Engineering in recognition of its 150th anniversary, this book examines how Purdue Boilermakers have played a consequential role in defending democracy, freedom and independence in times of war and great duress. Pioneering Purdue contributions include more than one hundred faculty working on the Manhattan Project, learning how to better cool machine gun barrels and making radar practical all during World War II, as well as the transition from vacuum tubes to semiconductors. Dorothy Stratton advancing the role of women in the military, the founding of the National Society of Black Engineers, the first School of Engineering Education, the first university airport and most famously Neil Armstrong, a US Navy officer and Purdue alumnus and the first human to set foot on the moon. Today Purdue is at the forefront of drones, hypersonics, energetics, artificial intelligence, space exploration, cybersecurity, semiconductors and much more. In fact, approximately one third of US spaceflights have included a Boilermaker astronaut and many of those alumni served in the military. This large number of astronauts partially stems from a Purdue Air Force Academy program to provide advanced degrees to graduating officers. A Spirit of Service tells the stories of men and women who lived this history from

ROTC students to a Medal of Honor recipient from soldiers at the front during the Great War to a man who witnessed the December 7 1941 attack on Pearl Harbor from a pilot who led thousands of planes in bombing missions over Germany during World War II to military astronauts from trailblazing female officers and pilots to twenty first century teachers and researchers who are creating the future This volume records the stories of Purdue men and women whose patriotism leadership and heroism have preserved life liberty and the pursuit of happiness for generations of Americans past present and future
