Books of 1912- Chicago Public Library, 1923
The Ruling Passion Christopher Lane, 1995 In The Ruling Passion Christopher Lane examines the relationship between masculinity homosexual desire and empire in British colonialist and imperialist fictions at the turn of the twentieth century Questioning the popular assumption that Britain's empire functioned with symbolic efficiency on sublimated desire this book presents a counterhistory of the empire's many layers of conflict and ambivalence Through attentive readings of sexual and political allegory in the work of Kipling Forster James Beerbohm Firbank and others and deft use of psychoanalytic theory The Ruling Passion interprets turbulent scenes of masculine identification and pleasure power and mastery intimacy and antagonism By foregrounding the shattering effects of male homosexuality and interracial desire and by insisting on the centrality of unconscious fantasy and the death drive The Ruling Passion examines the startling recurrence of colonial failure in narratives of symbolic doubt and ontological crisis Lane argues compellingly that Britain can progress culturally and politically only when it has relinquished its residual fantasies of global mastery

Telling Lies in Modern American Autobiography Timothy Dow Adams, 2017-10-10 All autobiographers are unreliable narrators Yet what a writer chooses to misrepresent is as telling perhaps even more so as what really happened Timothy Adams believes that autobiography is an attempt to reconcile one's life with one's self and he argues in this book that autobiography should not be taken as historically accurate but as metaphorically authentic Adams focuses on five modern American writers whose autobiographies are particularly complex because of apparent lies that permeate them In examining their stories Adams shows that lying in autobiography especially literary autobiography is not simply inevitable

Rather it is often a deliberate highly strategic decision on the author's part Throughout his analysis Adams's standard is not literal accuracy but personal authenticity He attempts to resolve some of the paradoxes of recent autobiographical theory by looking at the classic question of design and truth in autobiography from the underside with a focus on lying rather than truth Originally published in 1990 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value
