Writing Across The Curriculum 12th Edition:

Reconnecting Reading and Writing Alice S. Horning, Elizabeth W. Kraemer, 2013-09-06 Reconnecting Reading and Writing explores the ways in which reading can and should have a strong role in the teaching of writing in college Reconnecting Reading and Writing draws on broad perspectives from history and international work to show how and why reading should be reunited with writing in college and high school classrooms It presents an overview of relevant research on reading and how it can best be used to support and enhance writing instruction Writing in the Disciplines Mary Deane, Peter O'Neill, 2011-08-23 Writing in the Disciplines WiD is a growing field in which discipline based academics writing developers and learning technologists collaborate to help students succeed as subject specialists This book places WiD in its theoretical and cultural contexts and reports on initiatives taking place at a range of UK higher education institutions Also includes surveys of current developments and scholarship in the US Australia Europe and elsewhere making it of interest to both a UK and an international audience High Impact Practices in Higher Education Enakshi Sengupta, 2023-09-27 Collating various case studies policies and other real world research this book examines effective high impact learning practices and demonstrates approaches that promote learning communities and common intellectual experiences

Resources in Education, 2001-10 Directory of Awards National Science Foundation (U.S.). Directorate for Science and Engineering Education, Conference Proceedings, 1994 Tools for Teaching Barbara Gross Davis, 2009-07-17 This is the long awaited update on the bestselling book that offers a practical accessible reference manual for faculty in any discipline This new edition contains up to date information on technology as well as expanding on the ideas and strategies presented in the first edition It includes more than sixty one chapters designed to improve the teaching of beginning mid career or senior faculty members The topics cover both traditional tasks of teaching as well as broader concerns such as diversity and inclusion in the classroom and technology in educational settings The Scholarship of Teaching and Learning in Higher Education Rowena Murray, 2008-12-16 This book is designed for lecturers on a wide range of professional courses It directly addresses questions that come up again and again in seminar discussions questions that are fundamental to the values and perspectives of academics across the disciplines What is meant by the scholarship of teaching and learning in higher education What is the purpose of higher education Are lecturers really students on these courses How do you do reflective writing What do we do with all this theory and jargon What does CPD in this area involve How do you do research on teaching and learning This book does not treat each element of the curriculum separately course design assessment evaluation of teaching etc since that approach has been well handled by others Instead like other books in the series it addresses elements of the curriculum in an integrated way thereby educating the reader in how to approach a range of higher education related issues This book provides a scholarly introduction to the literature on these questions Like other books in the series it offers a concise treatment of complex questions It also provides directions for future study

International Handbook of Research in Arts Education Liora Bresler, 2007-09-04 Providing a distillation of knowledge in the various disciplines of arts education dance drama music literature and poetry and visual arts the Handbook synthesizes existing research literature helps define the past and contributes to shaping the substantive and methodological future of the respective and integrated disciplines of arts education While research can at times seem distant from practice the Handbook aims to maintain connection with the lived practice of art and of education capturing the vibrancy and best thinking in the field of theory and practice The Handbook is organized into 13 sections each centering on a major area or issue in arts education research These areas include History of arts education curriculum evaluation cultural centers appreciation composition informal learning child culture creativity the body spirituality and technology The individual chapters address cross cultural research related to the central theme of the section from the perspectives of the particular arts discipline Interludes provide reflective thoughts on the theme

Style and the Future of Composition Studies Paul Butler, Brian Ray, Star Medzerian Vanguri, 2020-11-02 Style and the Future of Composition Studies explores style s potential for informing how students are taught to write well and its power as a tool for analyzing the language and discourse practices of writers and speakers in a range of contexts Many college writing teachers operate under the belief that style still refers primarily to the kinds of issues discussed in Strunk and White s popular but outdated book The Elements of Style This work not only challenges this view but also offers theories and pedagogies from diverse perspectives that help teachers and students develop strategic habits and mindsets to negotiate languages genres and discourse conventions The chapters explore the ways in which style directly affects and is affected by multiple sources of shifting disciplinary inquiry contributing new insights by drawing on research in cultural studies sociolinguistics discourse studies translingualism and writing across the curriculum as well as new approaches to classical rhetorical theory The reemergence of stylistic inquiry can be used dynamically to produce new insights not only about emerging disciplinary interests but also about the study of style as a kind of language in and of itself Style and the Future of Composition Studies demonstrates that style deserves to be a central focus of writing teaching More than just the next style collection the book advocates for style s larger prominence in composition discussions generally It will be of interest to a broad range of students and scholars of writing studies as well as a wider set of readers in academe Contributors Cydney Alexis Laura Aull Anthony Box Jimmy Butts Mike Duncan William FitzGerald Melissa Goldthwaite Eric House TR Johnson Almas Khan Zak Lancaster Eric Leake Andrea Olinger Thomas Pace Jarron Slater Jonathan Udelson

Inspired College Teaching Maryellen Weimer, 2010-02-22 Praise for Inspired College Teaching The thoughtfulness personalization and consideration Maryellen Weimer demonstrates in discussing the experience of faculty members her ability to identify issues that are shared and solvable and her suggestions and solutions to commonly experienced stressors and difficulties in college teaching are major strengths of this volume. In addition, her personal and professional reflections on her long career as a faculty member, writer, and faculty developer expose tantalizing research questions that young education researchers might want to examine. The originality of this volume is its exploration of and reflection on a faculty member's career from a long-term perspective. The focus on iterative self and course renewal is personal and thus practical. In a way, it is a workshop between book covers or perhaps several workshops. Laura L. B. Border, director, Graduate Teacher Program and Collaborative Preparing Future Faculty Network, University of Colorado at Boulder. A book by Maryellen Weimer always displays her wonderful grasp of the literature on college teaching and learning, her ability to tell good stories, and her wit and wisdom. This one is no exception. Nancy Van Note Chism, professor, Indiana University School of Education, Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis. Although I work at a faculty teaching center and encounter many books on teaching, I have seen very few that span the full arc of the teaching career and what steps can be taken at each stage in order to retain vitality all the way through the way that this book does. I look forward to getting my own copy and using it as a resource in the faculty development activities of my center. It will have a wide readership. Mano Singham, University Center for Innovation in Teaching and Education, Case Western Reserve University. Writing Across the Curriculum Susan H.

McLeod, 1992-08-27. How can institutions develop and sustain writing across the curriculum (WAC) programs? This volume, written for faculty and administrators alike, answers that question. Chapters written by some of the foremost WAC directors and consultants in the country discuss how to get started, how to run WAC workshops, what role administrators can play, and how WAC can be integrated into the university curriculum. Also, there are pertinent chapters on developing permanent institutional support for WAC. Writing Across the Curriculum gives details about resources; successful WAC programs need administrators, coordinators, faculty who participate in workshops and seminars, support systems such as peer tutoring or writing centers, and institution-specific curricular models. The book assumes that WAC directors are learners as well as facilitators of learning and asserts that they expand the definition of good writing through discussion with members of other disciplines. Content Area Reading Richard T. Vacca, Jo Anne L. Vacca, Maryann E. Mraz, 2016-01-15. This is the eBook of the printed book and may not include any media, website access codes, or print supplements that may come packaged with the bound book. Widely popular as an undergraduate and graduate text and a valuable in-service resource, Content Area Reading shows pre- and in-service content area teachers how to use literacy-related instructional strategies to help students think and learn with all kinds of print and digital texts. As in previous editions, the emphasis is on the comprehensive content, including an ever-expanding knowledge base in the areas of literacy, cognition, and learning, educational policy, new literacies, and technologies, and student diversity. This edition updates readers with current theory, research, and practices related to content literacy and learning in disciplines. Throughout, it includes a renewed focus on writing across the content areas, with emphasis on strategies for online writing and multimodal learning, new disciplinary literacy boxes throughout, new Voices from the Field boxes and new instructional strategy examples replacing those in older editions updated content and references reflecting current developments in literacy education and content area reading a new Key Learning Outcomes feature at the beginning of each chapter and a new Check Your Understanding feature at the end of each chapter A major update of Chapter 2 Learning with New Literacies includes strategies to engage and empower multimodal learning across the curriculum
