

SHOPLIFTING POLICY – Procedures and guidelines for use in shoplifting or suspected shoplifting situations. [TEMPLATE – Items in blue should not be included in final policy]

This template is intended to provide management with information on developing a written shoplifting policy. This information should not be considered as legal advice or legal opinion as applied facts. This should be included as a disclaimer statement on the subject but a tool providing practical information for the reader. The laws per book are designed to comply with Federal and state regulations concerning shoplifting situations. Should add very, what about consult with their own legal counsel before implementing any of the suggested policies and procedures contained in this document.

FACT: Shoplifting is estimated to cost every retail establishment between .1% and 2.2% of receipts, with the average estimated to be 1.2%.

FACT: It DOES happen at this store.

FACT: This company takes a "hard-line" position against shoplifting.

FACT: In order to do that, we must be careful, even-handed, and persistent.

FACT: Shoplifting is a crime of opportunity and shoplifters will almost always move to an easier target if one is available.

MAKING THE STORE A LESS ATTRACTIVE TARGET

- Place more expensive merchandise under lock and key, or behind counters, or preferably both.
- Install a surveillance system and an alarm system. Make the camera or camera housings and the various sensors obvious. Even "dummy" cameras can be effective deterrents. Hide and make secure the recording devices.
- Train the sales floor staff to be observant and to offer assistance to customers regularly and often.
- Post signs saying that shoplifters will be prosecuted.
- If you have a paging system, periodically make a generic page along these lines: "Security, report to department 9." Be sure to vary the department number or name.
- Store management should train one or two "shoplifting experts or specialists" on each shift. These persons will be trained more thoroughly in decision making, detention procedures, processing and documentation.
- Prosecute shoplifters! Word will get around!

WHAT SHOULD ALL EMPLOYEES DO [at all times while working on the sales floor]

- Watch for suspicious behavior(s) from customers.
 1. Is (are) the customer(s) wearing heavy bulky clothing even though the weather is good?
 2. Is the customer constantly looking behind, left or right, or above as if to see if anyone, or anything, is watching?
 3. Is a group of customers acting in a bold/cocky manner as if to call attention to themselves?
 4. Is a customer spending an inordinate amount of time looking at the same relatively high priced merchandise?
 5. Is a customer seemingly nervous or uneasy when a sales associate asks if they can assist?
- Make mental and/or written notes, including descriptions, of any of the conditions noted above.
- Report any of the above conditions to store management or the shift shoplifting "expert."

Cyberinsurance Policy Josephine Wolff, 2022-08-30 Why cyberinsurance has not improved cybersecurity and what governments can do to make it a more effective tool for cyber risk management As cybersecurity incidents ranging from data breaches and denial of service attacks to computer fraud and ransomware become more common a cyberinsurance industry has emerged to provide coverage for any resulting liability business interruption extortion payments regulatory fines or repairs In this book Josephine Wolff offers the first comprehensive history of cyberinsurance from the early Internet Security Liability policies in the late 1990s to the expansive coverage offered today Drawing on legal records government reports cyberinsurance policies and interviews with regulators and insurers Wolff finds that cyberinsurance has not improved cybersecurity or reduced cyber risks Wolff examines the development of cyberinsurance comparing it to other insurance sectors including car and flood insurance explores legal disputes between insurers and policyholders about whether cyber related losses were covered under policies designed for liability crime or property and casualty losses and traces the trend toward standalone cyberinsurance policies and government efforts to regulate and promote the industry Cyberinsurance she argues is ineffective at curbing cybersecurity losses because it normalizes the payment of online ransoms whereas the goal of cybersecurity is the opposite to disincentivize such payments to make ransomware less profitable An industry built on modeling risk has found itself confronted by new technologies before the risks posed by those technologies can be fully understood
