

I did not mind people commenting about my hair at all. In fact, I rather enjoyed it. But one day, something happened which made me run to the barber's. A small bird began to build its nest in my hair.

It happened like this. I was lying on the grass under the tree in our yard, day-dreaming as usual. Around me, everything was still and silent. I was enjoying the silence and I lay there half asleep. I was dreaming about going to places like New York, London, Paris, Berlin, Vienna, Constantinople, Rome, and Cairo. I fell fast asleep.

It was then that a small bird flew down from a tree on to my head and began building a nest in my hair. After a while, it began singing and that woke me up. Never before in my life had I heard the song of a bird so clearly. The sound seemed so strange and new, and yet, at the same time so natural and so old. I lay there listening happily until I realized that it was singing from my head. I felt a sense of shock: it was not right for anyone to have a bird in his hair. I jumped up and hurried to town while the bird flew away in fright.

Everybody was right. I simply must have a haircut so that birds won't build nests in my hair.

A man named Aram had a barber's shop in the street. People said he was not a barber. Some said he was a farmer and others said he was a philosopher. I don't know, I just needed a haircut.

I soon reached the shop and found Aram sleeping at a table with a book open in front of him. I woke him up and said, "Will you cut my hair, please? I have twenty-five cents."
