Proust's Snobs, Inverts, and Jews Adeline Soldin, 2025-03-06 An intersectional investigation of identity formation in Marcel Proust's magnum opus As metonyms for broader categories such as class sexuality and ethnicity the three most discussed identity groups in Proust's la Recherche du Temps Perdu snobs inverts and Jews prove to be deeply intertwined and perplexing representations Attentive to these interwoven complexities Proust's Snobs Inverts and Jews examines the novelist's exploitation of classification systems as a means to subvert the notion of a fixed identity To illustrate Proust's challenges to a social order that restricts our perceptions of identity Adeline Soldin addresses the inconsistencies and friction surrounding the portrayal of these key figures in his seven volume novel Many scholars have recognized that the narrator's formative journey in La Recherche leads to disillusionment and increased mockery of his fellow characters Soldin contends however that Proust does not merely deride characters behavior but rather interrogates their diverse motivations and tendencies thereby exposing the performative nature of identity Proust's Snobs Inverts and Jews draws on Judith Butler's theories of performativity to illustrate Proust's precocious portrayal of identity in La Recherche as an elusive unattainable idea that characters pursue yet consistently fail to establish Ultimately the enigmatic and anonymous narrator models fluidity and promotes fantasy and imagination to compensate for the limitations imposed on individuals by social and linguistic conventions
